

Police/School Resource
Program
Panel Discussion

The presence of PSL's/SRO's on school campuses has increased due to safety concerns

Increase in Juvenile Crime: Early to Mid 90's

Without Alternatives to Arrest:

- Administrators abandon disciplinarian role
- Police become disciplinarians
- Police are taken away from collecting intelligence about serious crimes about to occur
- Increase in court dockets
- Widen the net for detention
- Increase in probation caseloads
- Criminalize kids for typical juvenile behavior
- Disproportionate Minority Contact (DMC)

MISDEMEANORS VS. FELONIES: Before School Reduction Referral Protocol

The Police/School Resource Program was developed to:

- Reduce school-based arrests, suspensions, and expulsions.
- Allow youth to access services without having to be referred into “the system”.
- Encourage creative solutions to keep students in school and out of court.
- Help remove law enforcement from the role of school disciplinarian.

Specific goals of Police/School Resource Program

- Assist kids, families, and schools with solutions that do not require court system involvement
- Address the criminogenic factors presented in the lives of the at risk students
- Hold youth accountable for their behaviors
