ALABAMA JUVENILE CODE REVISION
H.B. 28, H.B. 29, S.B. 33, S.B. 34
2008 Legislative Session

In 1975, the Legislature enacted the Alabama Juvenile Justice Act (AJJA), which was codified as Section 12-15-1, et seq., Ala. Code 1975.

Since that time, bills have been introduced to modify portions of this Act, but until 2003, no attempt had been made to comprehensively address all of the issues necessary to rewrite a juvenile justice bill.

At the conclusion of the 2003 Regular Session, a group of juvenile and family court officials concluded that the entire statutory scheme relating to juvenile court proceedings needed to be reviewed, reorganized and in part, rewritten. Accordingly, then-Chief Justice Drayton Nabers, Jr. constituted a Juvenile Code Revision Committee in 2004. That committee was composed of thirteen judges, including then-Judge Sue Bell Cobb of the Alabama Court of Criminal Appeals, Judge William Thompson of the Alabama Court of Civil Appeals, and eleven juvenile and family court judges.

The Juvenile Code Revision Committee identified a number of goals: (1) to clarify and make consistent the language used throughout statutory provisions dealing with juveniles; (2) to reorganize in a more orderly and logical fashion the provisions of Alabama law relating to juveniles; (3) to remove statutory provisions that were outdated or contrary to current case law or the Alabama Rules of Juvenile Procedure; and (4) to bring the Alabama Code into compliance with federal law, particularly the provisions for which compliance is tied to eligibility for federal funding. In a series of ten meetings conducted between August 2004 and November 2005, the Committee drafted a comprehensive revision of the state's laws regarding juvenile court proceedings.

In July 2005, a draft version of this juvenile code revision was distributed to the juvenile and family court judges for their review and comment prior to the annual conference of the state's Circuit and District Court Judges. The draft was also distributed to the principal child-serving agencies, including the Department of Youth Services (DYS), the Department of Human Resources (DHR), the Department of Mental Health/Mental Retardation (DMH/MR), each of whom submitted written comments and met with the judges' committee to discuss the bill. The draft was circulated to the state's juvenile probation officers over the state judicial system's website and during a training program in September 2005. In late 2005, the draft revision was also distributed to the Multiple Needs Child Office, the Department of Rehabilitation Services, the Department of Public Health, the Department of Child Abuse and Neglect Prevention, the Department of Children's Affairs, the Alabama Youth Justice Coalition, and Alabama Family Ties. The bill was amended in response to suggestions and concerns voiced by these groups.

When the Juvenile Code Revision Bill was introduced in the 2006 legislative session, multiple stakeholders raised concerns with the legislation. To address these concerns, the Chairman of the House Judiciary Committee recommended that a committee of stakeholders meet to review the bill and resolve points of contention. All interested parties – including agencies, judges, counties, legislators, officers of the court, and advocates – were invited to serve on that committee.

Beginning in June 2006, the committee composed of representatives of these groups met several times, both as a single body and in five subcommittees: Mental Health, Dependency, DYS, CHINS, and Multi-Needs. The committee then agreed on a number of changes, and also determined that the bill should be restructured to conform to the organizational structure of the current juvenile code.

In the 2007 Regular Legislative Session, a revised bill was introduced combining the work of both committees, which jointly met on January 4, 2007 with Chief Justice-elect Sue Bell Cobb, to review and approve the bill. That bill came out of committee, but, like most of the bills introduced during that session, did not reach a vote in either House.

During 2007, a concerted effort was made to again review the bill with all of these interested groups and entities, along with the Alabama Law Institute. During this period the bill's provisions were again revisited and revised to meet the concerns of the different groups and interests.

As with any bill that affects so many state agencies, interest groups and individuals, compromises were necessary and accommodations for varying points of view on many of the issues addressed in the bill have been made. No one agency or entity has shaped the bill in accordance with their interests or preferences. However, the negotiations and amendments of the bill's language made in the course of arriving at the final 2008 version of the bill have resulted in a true consensus bill that reasonably accommodates all of the varying interests in a manner that all of the agencies and interested parties have been able to accept and embrace.

Annotated Guide to the Alabama Juvenile Justice Act of 2008

This annotated Guide to the Alabama Juvenile Justice Act of 2008 (“the bill”) is intended to aid legislators and others in locating the more significant changes in Alabama juvenile law made in the bill. The text of the bill contained in the Guide is identical to the “plain” version of the bill (H.B.29/S.B. 33). However, the portions of the bill’s text that would make a significant change in existing juvenile law are highlighted in red ink and are briefly explained in a set of appended endnotes.

This Guide does not comprehensively list every change that would be made by the bill. Readers who are interested in an all-inclusive compilation of such changes may refer to the traditional “underline-overstrike” version of the bill (H.B. 28/S.B. 34), which is the complete and definitive guide to every addition to, change in or deletion from the text of existing Alabama statutory law.

However, after the “underline-overstrike” version of the bill (H.B. 28/S.B. 34) was completed, the Administrative Office of Courts legal staff that was principally charged with drafting the bill recognized that only small portions of the underlined and overstruck language in H.B. 28/S.B. 34 represented true or significant changes in the law; and that locating these more significant changes could be difficult.¹

In an attempt to help identify and explain these significant additions to, changes in, and deletions from existing statutory law, this Guide was prepared.

This Guide is offered with an important caveat: despite the very careful thought and consideration invested in deciding which changes were “significant,” the word “significant” is obviously a subjective one, i.e., what may be significant to one person or group may not be significant to others. Although the Guide identifies those portions of the bill that the AOC’s legal staff believes to be the more significant changes in existing law, if the reader wishes to identify and review every change in the text of existing law, the “underline-overstrike” version of the bill must be consulted.

¹ For examples, while in most bills underlined text signifies new law, many portions of underlined text in H.B. 28/S.B. 34 are not new law, but are simply reorganizational changes in which the text of a code section has been moved or copied from one place to another; others are similarly not new law, but a codification of existing law as established by an Alabama appellate court opinion, a court rule, or an Attorney General or other administrative opinion. Many other underlined or overstruck provisions are insubstantial in their scope or anticipated impact and thus, without great significance to most of the persons expected to be affected by the bill. Last, the bill also includes language changes made for purposes of uniformity and consistency, grammatical corrections and other clarifications of the text of existing statutory juvenile law, all made without the intent or effect of changing existing law. All of these instances add many lines of underlined or overstruck text within H.B. 28/S.B. 34 that do not truly denote meaningful change, but do increase the difficulty in identifying from the “underline-overstrike” version what is being significantly changed in juvenile law by the bill.

A GUIDE TO THE ALABAMA JUVENILE JUSTICE ACT OF 2008

TITLE 12. COURTS.

CHAPTER 15. JUVENILE PROCEEDINGS.

ARTICLE 1. GENERAL PROVISIONS.

- (a) This chapter shall be known as the Alabama Juvenile Justice Act. The purpose of this chapter is to facilitate the care, protection, and discipline of children who come under the jurisdiction of the juvenile court, while acknowledging the responsibility of the juvenile court to preserve the public peace and security.
- (b) In furtherance of this purpose, the following goals have been established for the juvenile court:
 - (1) To preserve and strengthen the family of the child whenever possible, including improvement of the home environment of the child.
 - (2) To remove the child from the custody of his or her parent or parents only when it is judicially determined to be in his or her best interests or for the safety and protection of the public.
 - (3) To reunite a child with his or her parent or parents as quickly and as safely as possible when the child has been removed from the custody of his or her parent or parents unless reunification is judicially determined not to be in the best interests of the child.
 - (4) To secure for any child removed from parental custody the necessary treatment, care, guidance, and discipline to assist him or her in becoming a responsible, productive member of society.
 - (5) To promote a continuum of services for children and their families from prevention to aftercare, considering wherever possible, prevention, diversion, and early intervention.
 - (6) To promote the use of community-based alternatives as deterrents to acts of juvenile delinquency and as least restrictive dispositional alternatives.
 - (7) To hold a child found to be delinquent accountable for his or her actions to the extent of the age, education, mental and physical condition, and background of the child, and all other relevant factors and to provide a program of supervision, care, and rehabilitation, including restitution by the child to the victim of his or her delinquent acts.
 - (8) To achieve the foregoing goals in the least restrictive setting necessary, with a preference at all times for the preservation of the family and the integration of parental accountability and participation in treatment and counseling programs.

- (c) Judicial procedures through which these goals are accomplished will assure the parties a fair hearing where their constitutional and other statutory rights are recognized and enforced.
- (d) This chapter shall be liberally construed to the end that each child coming under the jurisdiction of the juvenile court shall receive the care, guidance, and control, preferably in his or her own home, necessary for the welfare of the child and the best interests of the state.

- (b) Prior to authorizing the admission of the child to detention, shelter, or other care, the juvenile court intake officer, on an allegation of delinquency or in need of supervision or of dependency, shall review the need for detention or shelter care, including reviewing the written notice of the person who took the child into custody without an order of the juvenile court, and shall direct the law enforcement officer or other person currently having the child in custody to release the child unless detention or shelter care is required pursuant to Section 12-15-128. The juvenile court intake officer may allow release with or without electronic or telephone monitoring pending the 72-hour hearing requirement.
- (c) A person taking a child or minor into custody pursuant to subdivision (3) of Section 12-15-125 shall bring the child or minor to a medical or mental health facility if the child or minor is believed to be suffering from a serious mental health condition, illness, or injury which requires either prompt treatment or prompt diagnosis for the welfare of the child or minor or for evidentiary purposes, and, in the most expeditious manner possible, give notice of the action taken together with a statement of taking the child or minor into custody in writing to the court, the parents, legal guardian or other legal custodian and to the intake office and to the Department of Human Resources in the case of a dependency allegation.²⁴

§12-15-128.

- (a) An allegedly delinquent child, dependent child, or child in need of supervision lawfully taken into custody shall immediately be released, upon the ascertainment of the necessary facts, to the care, custody, and control of the parent, legal guardian, or legal custodian of the child or other suitable person able to provide supervision and care for the child unless the juvenile court or juvenile court intake officer, subject to the limitations in Section 12-15-208,²⁵ finds any of the following:
 - (1) The child has no parent, legal guardian, legal custodian, or other suitable person able to provide supervision and care for the child.²⁶
 - (2) The release of the child would present a clear and substantial threat of a serious nature to the person or property of others and where the child is alleged to be delinquent.
 - (3) The release of the child would present a serious threat of substantial harm to the child.
 - (4) The child has a history of failing to appear for hearings before the juvenile court.
 - (5) The child is alleged to be delinquent for possessing a pistol, short-barreled rifle, or short-barreled shotgun, in which case the child may be detained in a juvenile detention facility until the hearing required by Section 12-15-207. Pistol as used in this section shall be as defined in subdivision (1) of Section 13A-11-70. Short-barreled rifle and short-barreled shotgun as used in this section shall be as defined in Section 13A-11-62.

- (c) In releasing a child, a juvenile court or the juvenile court intake officer may impose restrictions on the travel, association, or place of abode of the child or place the child under the supervision of a department, agency, or organization agreeing to supervise him or her, and may place the child under supervision such as electronic or telephone monitoring, if available. A child, once placed in detention, may also be released pursuant to the same conditions should there be a need to release the child from a juvenile detention facility because of an overcrowded population.

All hearings pursuant to this chapter shall be conducted by the juvenile court without a jury and separate from other proceedings. The general public shall be excluded from delinquency, in need of supervision, or dependency hearings and only the parties, their counsel, witnesses, and other persons requested by a party shall be admitted. Other persons as the juvenile court finds to have a proper interest in the case or in the work of the juvenile court may be admitted by the juvenile court on condition that the persons refrain from divulging any information which would identify the child under the jurisdiction of the juvenile court or family involved. If the juvenile court finds that it is in the best interests of the child under the jurisdiction of the juvenile court, the child may be temporarily excluded from the hearings, except while allegations of delinquency or in need of supervision are being heard.

- (a) Where there are indications that a child may be physically ill, mentally ill, or mentally retarded, or an evaluation of a child is needed to help determine issues of competency to understand judicial proceedings, mental state at the time of the offense, or the ability of the child to assist his or her attorney,²⁷ the juvenile court, on its own motion or motion by the prosecutor, or that of the child's attorney or guardian ad litem for the child, may order the child to be examined at a suitable place by a physician, psychiatrist, psychologist, or other qualified examiner, under the supervision of a physician, psychiatrist, or psychologist who shall certify the findings of the examiner in writing, or a qualified examiner approved by the Department of Mental Health and Mental Retardation prior to a hearing on the merits of the petition.
- (b) The examinations made prior to a hearing as provided for in subsection (a) shall be conducted on an outpatient basis unless the juvenile court finds that placement in a hospital or other appropriate facility is necessary.

- (c) The juvenile court, after a hearing, may order an examination, as described in subsection (a), of a parent, legal guardian, or legal custodian who gives his or her consent and whose ability to care for or supervise a child before the juvenile court is at issue.
- (d) The juvenile court, either before or after a hearing, may cause any child under the jurisdiction of the juvenile court to be given a physical or mental examination, or both, by a competent physician, psychiatrist, psychologist, or other qualified examiner, under the supervision of a physician, psychiatrist, or psychologist who shall certify to the findings of the examiner in writing, or an examiner approved by the Department of Mental Health and Mental Retardation to be designated by the juvenile court, and the physician, psychiatrist, psychologist, or mental examiner shall certify to the juvenile court the condition in which the child is found.
- (e) If, upon the examination, there is reason to believe that a minor or child is mentally ill or mentally retarded, as defined by the Department of Mental Health and Mental Retardation, a petition for mental commitment of the minor or child may be filed pursuant to Article 4, commencing with Section 12-15-401.
- (f) Upon examination, if it appears that the child is in need of surgery, medical treatment or care, hospital care, or dental care, the juvenile court may cause the child to be treated by a competent physician, surgeon, or dentist or placed in a public hospital or other institution for training or care or in an approved private home, hospital, or institution, which will receive him or her for like purposes. The expense of the treatment shall be a valid charge against the county unless otherwise provided for.
- (g) The juvenile court may grant authority to order emergency medical care to any such person, agency, or department charged with the detention, temporary shelter care, or other care of a child under the jurisdiction of the juvenile court.

§12-15-131.

- (3) Notice of the motion and the grounds therein and an opportunity to be heard thereon have been given to the party against whom the order is directed.

§12-15-132.

- (a) A child on probation or aftercare incident to an adjudication as a delinquent child or a child in need of supervision who violates the terms of his or her probation or aftercare may be proceeded against for a revocation of the order.

The petition shall recite the date that the child was placed on probation or aftercare and shall state the time and manner in which notice of the terms of probation or aftercare was given.

- (c) Probation or aftercare revocation proceedings shall require clear and convincing evidence. In all other respects, proceedings to revoke probation or aftercare shall be governed by the procedures, safeguards, and rights and duties applicable to delinquency and child in need of supervision cases contained in this chapter.
- (d) If a child is found to have violated the terms of his or her probation or aftercare pursuant to a revocation hearing, the juvenile court may extend the period of probation or aftercare or make any other order of disposition specified for a child adjudicated delinquent or in need of supervision.

- (a) The protection or restraint order may set forth reasonable conditions of behavior to be observed by a person who is a parent, legal guardian, legal custodian, or other person legally responsible for the care of the child subject to a juvenile court proceeding, or the spouse of the parent, or spouse of any other person legally responsible for the care of the child, or relatives of any of the above, or residents of the home of the child, or any other person.

If an emergency order is issued, a hearing, after notice, shall be held within 72 hours of the written evidence or the next judicial business day thereafter, to either dissolve, continue, or modify the order.

After notice and opportunity for a hearing afforded to a person subject to a protection or restraint order, the order may be modified or extended for a further specified period, or both, or may be terminated if the juvenile court finds that the best interests of the child subject to a juvenile court proceeding will be served thereby.

§12-15-143.

§12-15-202.

- (a) Rights of the child when taken into custody. When a child is taken into custody, the person taking the child into custody shall inform the child of all of the following, in language understandable to the child:⁴⁰
 - (1) The reason that the child is being taken into custody.

- (2) That the child has the right to communicate with his or her parent, legal guardian, or legal custodian whether or not that person is present. If necessary, reasonable means will be provided for the child to do so.

- (b) Rights of the child before being questioned while in custody. Before the child is questioned about anything concerning the charge on which the child was taken into custody, the person asking the questions shall inform the child of the following rights:
- (1) That the child has the right to a child's attorney.

 - b. In all other juvenile court proceedings, the juvenile court may appoint a child's attorney in any case upon request or when it deems the appointment to be in the interests of justice.
 - c. In addition to those duties referenced in subdivision (5) of Section 12-15-102, the duties of a child's attorney include, but are not limited to, the following:
 1. Irrespective of the age of the child, meet with the child prior to juvenile court hearings, when apprised of emergencies or significant events impacting on the child, and as necessary to prepare for the juvenile court proceeding. The child's attorney shall explain, in terms understandable to the child, what is expected to happen at each stage of the proceedings, as well as the rights of the child at each stage of the proceedings.
 2. Conduct a prompt, thorough, and independent investigation of the facts, the health, family, social history, and educational background of the child, possible defenses, and applicable law, and seek discovery from the prosecution.
 3. Based upon the investigation, advise the child, in terms he or she can understand, as to his or her options for proceeding in the case and the likely outcomes of the various courses of action. Conduct the defense in accordance with the expressed interests of the client regarding whether to seek release from detention, whether to admit or deny the allegations, whether to testify, whether to enter into a negotiated settlement, whether to appeal, whether to accept or oppose a recommended disposition, and the overall goals of the representation.

- 4. Attend all hearings scheduled by the juvenile court and file all necessary pleadings and motions to promote the expressed interests of the child and protect his or her rights.
- 5. Maintain familiarity with the dispositional resources available through the juvenile court and in the community, and recommend appropriate services to the child and the family. Advocate in the dispositional process to protect the rights of the client, meet the goals of the representation, and ensure that the juvenile court is aware of any special needs of the child that should be addressed in the dispositional process.⁴¹

- (2) The child, through a child's attorney, has the right to cross-examine witnesses.
- (3) The child has the right to confront all witnesses against the child, subject to limitations recognized by the United States Supreme Court.⁴²
- (4) The child shall be furnished a transcript on appeal. If the child or the parent, legal guardian, or legal custodian of the child cannot afford a transcript, the juvenile court shall order that the transcript be paid for out of funds set aside for this purpose.

- (a) A prosecutor, before a hearing on a delinquency petition on its merits and after notifying, verbally or in writing, the juvenile probation officer,⁴³ may file a motion requesting the juvenile court judge to transfer a child for criminal prosecution to the circuit or district court, if the child was 14 or more years of age at the time of the conduct charged and is alleged to have committed an act which would constitute a criminal offense as defined by this code if committed by an adult.
- (b) The juvenile court judge shall conduct a hearing on all motions for the purpose of determining whether it is in the best interests of the child or the public to grant the motion. Only if there are no reasonable grounds to believe the child is committable to an institution, department, or agency for the mentally retarded or mentally ill, may the juvenile court judge order the case transferred for criminal prosecution.
- (c) When there are grounds to believe that the child is committable to an institution, department, or agency for the mentally retarded or mentally ill, the juvenile court judge shall order an examination pursuant to Section 12-15-130.
- (d) Evidence of the following and other relevant factors shall be considered in determining whether the motion shall be granted:
 - (1) The nature of the present alleged offense.
 - (2) The extent and nature of the prior delinquency record of the child.

- (3) The nature of past treatment efforts and the nature of the response of the child to the efforts.
 - (4) Demeanor.
 - (5) The extent and nature of the physical and mental maturity of the child.
 - (6) The interests of the community and of the child requiring that the child be placed under legal restraint or discipline.
- (e) Prior to a hearing on the motion by the prosecutor, a written study and report to the juvenile court judge, relevant to the factors listed in subsection (d), shall be made by a juvenile probation officer.
 - (f) When a child is transferred for criminal prosecution, the juvenile court judge shall set forth in writing his or her reasons for granting the motion, which shall include a finding of probable cause for believing that the allegations are true and correct.
 - (g) The finding of probable cause by the juvenile court judge shall preclude the necessity for a preliminary hearing subsequent to the transfer of the case for criminal prosecution, and the court having jurisdiction of the offense or offenses charged may exercise any authority over the case and the child, subsequent to the transfer, which is otherwise applicable to cases involving adult offenders pursuant to provisions of laws or rules of procedure adopted by the Supreme Court of Alabama.
 - (h) A child who is transferred to a court for criminal prosecution shall be tried as an adult for the offense charged and all lesser included offenses of the offense charged.
 - (i) A conviction or adjudication as a youthful offender of a child of a criminal offense, with the exception of a nonfelony traffic offense, shall terminate the jurisdiction of the juvenile court over that child with respect to any future delinquent acts and with respect to any pending allegations of delinquency which have not been disposed of by the juvenile court at the time of the criminal conviction or adjudication as a youthful offender. Any pending or future criminal acts committed by the child shall be prosecuted as other criminal charges are prosecuted. Termination of the jurisdiction of the juvenile court over the child with respect to future criminal charges and pending allegations of delinquency, as provided herein, shall not affect the jurisdiction of the juvenile court over the child with respect to any other matter provided in this chapter, specifically including any prior allegations of delinquency which, at the time of the criminal conviction, has been disposed of by the juvenile court either through informal adjustment, consent decree, or adjudication. The juvenile court is specifically authorized, to the extent practicable, to continue exercising its jurisdiction over the child with respect to such previously disposed delinquency cases after the termination of its jurisdiction with respect to other criminal charges, including jurisdiction to enforce its order requiring the payment of fines, costs, restitution, or other money ordered by the juvenile court pursuant to Section 12-15-117.⁴⁴ §12-15-204.

- (a) Notwithstanding any other provision of law, any person who has attained the age of 16 years at the time of the conduct charged and who is charged with the commission of any act or conduct, which if committed by an adult would constitute any of the following, shall not be subject to the jurisdiction of juvenile court but shall be charged, arrested, and tried as an adult:

- (1) A capital offense.
 - (2) A Class A felony.
 - (3) A felony which has as an element thereof the use of a deadly weapon.
 - (4) A felony which has as an element thereof the causing of death or serious physical injury.
 - (5) A felony which has as an element thereof the use of a dangerous instrument against any person who is one of the following:
 - a. A law enforcement officer or official.
 - b. A correctional officer or official.
 - c. A parole or probation officer or official.
 - d. A juvenile court probation officer or official.
 - e. A district attorney or other prosecuting officer or official.
 - f. A judge or judicial official.
 - g. A court officer or official.
 - h. A person who is a grand juror, juror, or witness in any legal proceeding of whatever nature when the offense stems from, is caused by, or is related to the role of the person as a juror, grand juror, or witness.
 - i. A teacher, principal, or employee of the public education system of Alabama.
 - (6) Trafficking in drugs in violation of Section 13A-12-231, or as the same may be amended.
 - (7) Any lesser included offense of the above offenses charged or any lesser felony offense charged arising from the same facts and circumstances and committed at the same time as the offenses listed above. Provided, however, that the juvenile court shall maintain original jurisdiction over these lesser included offenses if the grand jury fails to indict for any of the offenses enumerated in subsections (a)(1) to (a)(6), inclusive. The juvenile court shall also maintain original jurisdiction over these lesser included offenses, subject to double jeopardy limitations, if the court handling criminal offenses dismisses all charges for offenses enumerated in subsections (a)(1) to (a)(6), inclusive.⁴⁵
- (b) Notwithstanding any other provision of law, any person who has been convicted or adjudicated a youthful offender in a court handling criminal offenses pursuant to the provisions of this section shall not thereafter be subject to the jurisdiction of juvenile court for any pending or subsequent offense.⁴⁶ Provided, however, pursuant to Section 12-15-117, the juvenile court shall retain jurisdiction over an individual of any age for the enforcement of any prior orders of the juvenile court requiring the payment of fines, court costs, restitution, or other money ordered by the juvenile court until paid in full.
- (c) This section shall apply to all cases in which the alleged criminal conduct occurred after April 14, 1994. All conduct occurring before April 14, 1994, shall be governed by pre-existing law.

§12-15-205.

If delinquency or in need of supervision is alleged, proceedings shall be commenced in the county where the acts constituting the allegation occurred.

§12-15-206.

If a child resides in a county of the state and the delinquency or child in need of supervision proceeding is commenced in a juvenile court of another county, the juvenile court in the county in which the proceeding was commenced, on its own motion or a motion of a party and after consultation with the receiving juvenile court,⁴⁷ may transfer the proceeding to the county of the residence of the child for such further action or proceedings as the juvenile court receiving the transfer may deem proper.

A transfer may also be made if the residence of the child changes pending the proceeding.

The proceeding shall be so transferred if the child has been adjudicated delinquent or in need of supervision and other proceedings involving the child are pending in the juvenile court of the county of his or her residence.

Certified copies of all legal and social records pertaining to the case shall accompany the transfer.

§12-15-207.

- (a) When a child is not released from detention or shelter care as provided in Section 12-15-127, a petition shall be filed and a hearing held within 72 hours of placement in detention or shelter care, Saturdays, Sundays, and holidays included, to determine probable cause⁴⁸ and to determine whether or not continued detention or shelter care is required.
- (b) Notice of the detention or shelter care hearing, either verbal or written, stating the date, time, place, and purpose of the hearing and the right to counsel shall be given by a juvenile probation officer⁴⁹ to the parent, legal guardian, or legal custodian if they can be found and to the child if the child is over 12 years of age.
- (c) At the commencement of the detention or shelter care hearing, the juvenile court shall advise the parent, legal guardian, legal custodian, and the parties of the right to counsel and shall appoint counsel if the juvenile court determines they are indigent. The parties shall be informed of the right of the child to remain silent. The parent, legal guardian, legal custodian, and the parties shall also be informed of the contents of the petition and, except as provided herein, shall be given an opportunity to admit or deny the allegations of the petition. Prior to the acceptance of an admission of the allegations of the petition, the juvenile court shall: (1) Verify if the child was previously convicted or adjudicated a youthful offender pursuant to Section 12-15-203 or (2) rule on any motion of the prosecutor requesting the juvenile court to transfer the child for criminal prosecution. The juvenile court shall not accept a plea of guilt or an admission to the allegations of the petition in any case in which the child will be transferred for prosecution as an adult, either by grant of the motion of the prosecutor to transfer or pursuant to Section 12-15-203.

- (d) All relevant and material evidence helpful in determining the need for detention or shelter care may be admitted by the juvenile court even though not admissible in subsequent hearings.
- (e) If the child is not released and no parent, legal guardian, or other legal custodian has been notified and none appeared or waived appearance at the hearing, upon the filing of an affidavit by the parent, legal guardian, or legal custodian stating these facts and requesting a hearing, the juvenile court shall rehear the matter within 24 hours.
- (f) If a person 18 years of age or older is alleged to have violated a condition of probation or aftercare after the person was adjudicated to be delinquent, the juvenile court may order that the person be confined in the appropriate jail or lockup for adults as ordered by the juvenile court.⁵⁰

§12-15-208.

- (a) Persons who shall not be detained or confined in secure custody include all of the following:
 - (1) Status offenders. Effective October 1, 2009, status offenders, as defined in this article, shall not be detained or confined in secure custody. Short-term secure custody of accused status offenders may be necessary, such as detention in a juvenile detention facility for a brief period, not exceeding 24 hours, prior to formal juvenile court action, for investigative purposes, for identification purposes, or for the purpose of allowing return of a status offender to the parent, legal guardian, or legal custodian. Detention for a brief period of time pursuant to juvenile court authority may also be necessary in order to arrange for appropriate shelter care placement. If a petition regarding an alleged status offender is filed in juvenile court and if it is determined that the alleged status offender is at imminent risk of being placed in the legal or physical custody of the Department of Human Resources, the case shall be referred to the county children's services facilitation team, and the procedures in Article 5 shall be followed. Upon referral to the county children's services facilitation team, the juvenile probation officer shall continue to provide case management to the status offender unless the county children's services facilitation team appoints another person to act as case manager. The juvenile probation officer shall participate in county children's services facilitation team meetings and share records information and reports on the status offender with the county children's services facilitation team.⁵¹
 - (2) Federal wards. Federal wards held beyond 24 hours in secure custody in state and local juvenile detention facilities pursuant to a written contract or agreement with a federal agency and for the specific purpose of affecting a jurisdictional transfer or appearance as a material witness or for return to their lawful residence or country of citizenship shall be reported as violations of the deinstitutionalization of status offender requirement.⁵²
 - (3) Nonoffenders. Nonoffenders, as defined in this article, shall not be detained or confined in secure custody.⁵³

- (4) Children 10 years of age and younger. Children 10 years of age and younger shall not be detained or confined in secure custody, unless the children are charged with offenses causing death or serious bodily injury to persons or offenses that would be classified as Class A felonies if committed by adults. Children 11 or 12 years of age may only be detained or confined in secure custody by orders of juvenile courts, unless the children are charged with offenses causing death or serious bodily injury to persons or offenses that would be classified as Class A felonies if committed by adults.⁵⁴
- (b) Persons who may be detained or confined in secure custody include all of the following:⁵⁵
- (1) Persons who violate the federal law, which prohibits possession of a handgun by a child under the age of 18 years, or who violate a similar state or municipal law, may be placed in secure custody in juvenile detention facilities.
 - (2) Persons in custody pursuant to the Interstate Compact on Juveniles, contained in Section 44-2-1, et seq., may be placed in secure custody in juvenile detention facilities.
- (c) Compliance with jail removal. No person under the age of 18 years shall be detained or confined in any jail or lockup for adults except for the following exceptions:
- (1) A child may be detained in a jail or lockup for adults for up to six hours while processing the case of the child.
 - (2) A child transferred for criminal prosecution pursuant to Section 12-15-203 may be detained in a jail or lockup for adults.
 - (3) A person charged pursuant to Section 12-15-204 may be detained in a jail or lockup for adults.

When a case is transferred to another court for criminal prosecution, the person shall be transferred to the appropriate officer or jail or lockup in accordance with the law governing the detention of the person charged with the crime. Jails and lockups used for holding adults shall not hold status offenders in secure custody at any time. An accused status offender may be detained in a nonsecure area of a jail or lockup for processing while waiting transportation to a nonsecure shelter care facility or a juvenile detention facility or while waiting for release to a parent, legal guardian, or legal custodian.⁵⁶

- (d) Compliance with separation. Accused or adjudicated delinquent children or status offenders shall not have contact with adult inmates, including trusties. Contact is defined to include any physical or sustained sight and sound contact. Sight contact is defined as clear visual contact between adult inmates and accused or adjudicated delinquent children or status offenders within close proximity to each other. Sound contact is defined as direct verbal communication between adult inmates and accused or adjudicated delinquent children or status offenders.

No child shall enter pursuant to public authority, for any amount of time, in secure custody in a secure section of a jail, lockup, or correctional facility for adults as a disposition of an offense or as a means of modifying his or her behavior (e.g., Shock Incarceration or Scared Straight).⁵⁷

- (e) Except as provided above, in providing detention and shelter or other care for children referred to or coming under the jurisdiction of the juvenile court, the juvenile court shall utilize only those facilities as have been established, licensed, or approved by the Department of Youth Services or Department of Human Resources for those purposes.
- (f) After October 1, 1991, the Department of Youth Services shall accept all children committed to it within seven days of notice of disposition.
- (g) Except as provided above, the official in charge of a jail or lockup for the detention of adult offenders or persons charged with crimes shall inform the juvenile court immediately when a child, who is or appears to be a child as defined by this chapter, is received at the jail or lockup. Upon request, the official shall deliver the child to the juvenile court or transfer him or her to a juvenile detention facility designated by the juvenile court.
- (h) The Department of Youth Services shall continue to develop and implement a statewide system of juvenile detention facilities which shall be licensed by the Department of Youth Services for the detention of children.
- (i) The Department of Youth Services shall subsidize the detention of children in the juvenile detention facilities in an amount up to one half the average cost of detention, which term is defined in this article, the amount depending on the provision of funds by the Legislature to the Department of Youth Services. Juvenile detention facilities may contract with the Department of Youth Services or other counties for the detention of children.
- (j) When a case is transferred to another court for criminal prosecution, the child shall be transferred to the appropriate officer or jail or lockup in accordance with the law governing the detention of the person charged with criminal offenses.
- (k) Any law enforcement officer, at the direction of the juvenile court, shall provide security and transportation services for the juvenile court in transporting children to and from juvenile detention facilities.

- (a) When the juvenile court finds that full-time detention or shelter care of a child is not required, the juvenile court shall order the release of the child, and in so doing, may impose one or more of the following conditions:
 - (1) Place the child in the custody of a parent, legal guardian, legal custodian, or any other person whom the juvenile court deems proper, or place the child with a department, agency, or organization agreeing to supervise the child.
 - (2) Place restrictions on the travel, association, or place of abode of the child during the period of his or her release, or place the child under electronic or telephone monitoring, if available.
 - (3) Impose any other condition deemed reasonably necessary and consistent with the criteria for detaining children specified in Section 12-15-128, including a condition requiring that the child return to custody as required.

- (b) An order releasing a child on any conditions specified in subsection (a) may at any time be amended to impose additional or different conditions of release or to return the child to custody for failure to conform to the conditions originally imposed.

- (a) In delinquency and child in need of supervision cases, a child and his or her parent, legal guardian, or legal custodian shall be advised by the juvenile court or its representative at intake that the child has the right to be represented at all stages of the proceedings by a child's attorney retained by them or, if they are unable to afford a child's attorney, by a child's attorney appointed by the juvenile court.
- (b) If a child's attorney is not retained by the child or a party in a juvenile court proceeding in which there is a reasonable likelihood such may result in a placement in an institution in which the freedom of the child is curtailed, a child's attorney shall be appointed to defend the child.
- (c) In delinquency and child in need of supervision proceedings, a juvenile court may appoint a guardian ad litem in addition to the child's attorney described in this section.⁵⁸
- (d) The juvenile court may appoint counsel in any case when it deems such in the interests of justice.

§12-15-211.

- (a) The juvenile court may suspend delinquency or child in need of supervision proceedings pursuant to a consent decree. The terms and conditions of the consent decree shall be agreed to by the child and his or her parent, legal guardian, or legal custodian. The consent decree shall be entered at any time after the filing of a delinquency or child in need of supervision petition and before the entry of an adjudication order. The child and his or her parent, legal guardian, or legal custodian shall be advised of their rights, including the right to counsel.
- (b) Where an objection is made by the prosecutor, the juvenile court, after considering the objection and the reasons therefor, shall proceed to determine whether it is appropriate to enter a consent decree.
- (c) A consent decree shall remain in force for six months unless the child is discharged sooner by the juvenile court. Upon application of a juvenile probation officer or other department or agency supervising the child, made before the expiration of the six-month period, a consent decree may be extended by the juvenile court for an additional six months.
- (d) If prior to discharge by the juvenile probation officer or expiration of the consent decree, a new delinquency or child in need of supervision petition is filed against the child, or the child otherwise fails to fulfill express terms and conditions of the decree, the petition under which the child was continued under supervision may be reinstated after a hearing and the case may proceed to adjudication.
- (e) Upon satisfaction by the child of the conditions of the consent decree or upon the child being otherwise discharged by the juvenile court, the petition shall be dismissed with prejudice.

- (a) If the allegations are denied, the juvenile court shall proceed to hear evidence on the petition. If the juvenile court finds on proof beyond a reasonable doubt, based upon competent, material, and relevant evidence, that the child committed the acts by reason of which the child is alleged to be delinquent or in need of supervision, the juvenile court shall record its findings and proceed to determine whether the child is in need of care or rehabilitation. If the juvenile court finds that the allegations in the petition have not been established, the juvenile court shall dismiss the petition and order the child discharged from any detention or temporary care, theretofore ordered in the proceedings.
- (b) If the child admits to the allegations contained in the petition, the juvenile court shall record its findings and proceed to determine whether the child is in need of care or rehabilitation.
- (c) When the allegations have been proven pursuant to subsections (a) or (b), the juvenile court may proceed immediately to hear evidence as to whether the child is in need of care or rehabilitation and to file its findings thereon. In the absence of evidence to the contrary, a finding that the child has committed an act that constitutes a felony is sufficient to sustain a finding that the child is in need of care or rehabilitation. If the juvenile court finds that the child is not in need of care or rehabilitation, it shall dismiss the proceedings and discharge the child from any detention or other temporary care. If the juvenile court finds from clear and convincing evidence, competent, material, and relevant in nature, that the child is in need of care or rehabilitation in the absence of objection showing good cause or at a postponed hearing, the juvenile court may make proper disposition of the case.
- (d) In dispositional hearings, all relevant and material evidence helpful in determining the questions presented, including verbal and written reports, may be received by the juvenile court and may be relied upon to the extent of its probative value, even though not competent in a hearing on the petition. The parties or their counsel shall be afforded an opportunity to examine and controvert written reports so received and to cross-examine individuals making reports.
- (e) On its own motion or that of a party, the juvenile court may continue the dispositional hearing for a reasonable period to receive reports and other evidence bearing on the disposition or need for care or rehabilitation. In this event, the juvenile court shall make an appropriate order for detention or temporary care for the child, or the release of the child from detention or temporary care during the period of the continuance, subject to those conditions as the juvenile court may impose.

- (a) A child charged with a delinquent act or who is alleged to be in need of supervision shall be accorded the rights and privileges afforded by the Constitution of the United States and the Constitution of Alabama of 1901.
- (b) An extrajudicial statement which would be constitutionally inadmissible in a criminal proceeding may not be received in evidence over objection. Evidence illegally seized or obtained may not be received in evidence over objection to establish the allegations against the child. An extrajudicial admission or confession made by the child out of court is insufficient to support a finding that the child committed the acts alleged in the petition unless it is corroborated by other evidence.

- (c) Criminal proceedings and other juvenile proceedings based upon the offense alleged in the petition or an offense based upon the same conduct are barred where the juvenile court has begun taking evidence or where the juvenile court has accepted from the child a plea of guilty to the petition.

The juvenile court may direct that a juvenile probation officer conduct a study and submit a written report to the juvenile court with recommendations concerning a child, his or her family, his or her environment, and other matters relevant to the need for treatment or disposition of the case. The recommendations may indicate that the child needs further mental health evaluation, especially, in some cases, for the purpose of determining whether the child is competent to stand trial. The recommendations may also include a request that the juvenile court proceed pursuant to Section 12-15-130.⁵⁹

§12-15-215.

- (a) If the juvenile court finds on proof beyond a reasonable doubt, based upon competent, material, and relevant evidence, that a child committed the acts by reason of which the child is alleged to be delinquent or in need of supervision, it may proceed immediately to hear evidence as to whether the child is in need of care or rehabilitation and to file its findings thereon. In the absence of evidence to the contrary, a finding that the child has committed an act which constitutes a felony is sufficient to sustain a finding that the child is in need of care or rehabilitation. If the juvenile court finds that the child is not in need of care or rehabilitation, it shall dismiss the proceedings and discharge the child from any detention or other temporary care theretofore ordered. If the juvenile court finds that the child is in need of care or rehabilitation, it may make any of the following orders or dispositions, subject to the limitations and prohibitions on secure custody contained in Section 12-15-208:⁶⁰
 - (1) Permit the child to remain with the parent, legal guardian, or other legal custodian of the child, subject to the conditions and limitations the juvenile court may prescribe.
 - (2) Place the child on probation pursuant to conditions and limitations the juvenile court may prescribe.
 - (3) Transfer legal and physical custody to any of the following:
 - a. The Department of Youth Services, with or without an order to a specific institution.
 - b. In the case of a child in need of supervision, the Department of Youth Services, or the Department of Human Resources; provided however (i.) that prior to any transfer of custody to the Department of Human Resources, the case shall first be referred to the county children's services facilitation team, which must proceed according to Article 5;⁶¹ and (ii.) that the child's commission of one or more status offenses shall not constitute a sufficient basis for transfer of legal or physical custody to the Department of Human Resources.⁶² Upon referral to the county children's services facilitation team, the juvenile probation officer shall continue to provide case management to the status offender unless the county children's services facilitation team appoints another person to act as case manager. The juvenile probation officer shall participate in county children's services facilitation team meetings and share records information and reports on the status offender with the county children's services facilitation team.⁶³ When the juvenile court transfers legal and physical custody to the Department of Human Resources, all requirements which shall be met for a child to be eligible for federal funding shall apply, including, but not limited to, the requirements set out in Sections 12-15-312, 12-15-315, and 12-15-317.⁶⁴

- c. A local, public, or private agency, organization, or facility willing and able to assume the education, care, and maintenance of the child and which is licensed or otherwise authorized by law to receive and provide care for children.
 - d. During the term of supervision, a relative or other individual who is found by the juvenile court to be qualified to receive and care for the child.
- (4) Make any other order as the juvenile court in its discretion shall deem to be for the welfare and best interests of the child, including random drug screens, assessment of fines not to exceed two hundred fifty dollars ($250), and restitution against the parent, legal guardian, legal custodian, or child, as the juvenile court deems appropriate. Costs for juvenile court-ordered drug screening may be ordered paid for by the state out of moneys appropriated as "court costs not otherwise provided for." Restitution against the parent, legal guardian, legal custodian, or child shall be governed by the same principles applicable in the Restitution to Victims of Crime Act, commencing with Section 15-18-65.
- (5) Direct the parent, legal guardian, or legal custodian of the child to perform reasonable acts as are deemed necessary to promote the best interests of the child.
- (6) In any case where a child is adjudicated delinquent for possessing a pistol, short-barreled rifle, or short-barreled shotgun, any pistol, short-barreled rifle, or short-barreled shotgun possessed by that child is forfeited and shall be ordered to be destroyed by the juvenile court.
- (b) No child by virtue of a disposition pursuant to this section shall be committed or transferred to a penal institution or other facility used for the execution of sentences of persons convicted of a crime.
 - (c) No child in need of supervision, unless also a delinquent child, shall be ordered to be placed in an institution or facility established for the care and rehabilitation of delinquent children unless the juvenile probation officer submits a written recommendation and the juvenile court finds upon a further hearing that the child is not amenable to treatment or rehabilitation pursuant to any prior disposition.

In determining if a child is not amenable to treatment or rehabilitation, the juvenile court shall consider evidence of the following and other relevant factors:

- (1) Prior treatment efforts, such as, but not limited to:
 - a. Mental health counseling, if any.
 - b. Individualized educational plans, if any.
 - c. Other educational records.
 - d. Individualized service plans, if any.
- (2) The age of the child.
- (3) The history of the child being involved with the juvenile court, including, but not limited to, informal adjustments, consent decrees, adjudications, and prior placements.
- (4) Other factors contributing to the behavioral difficulties of the child.

The written recommendations of the juvenile probation officer shall include evidence of the foregoing and other relevant factors.⁶⁵

- (d) When a delinquent child may be committable to the Department of Mental Health and Mental Retardation, the juvenile court shall proceed as provided in Article 4, commencing with Section 12-15-401.
- (e) Whenever the juvenile court vests legal custody in an agency or department, it shall transmit with the order copies of the clinical reports, predisposition study, and other information it has pertinent to the care and treatment of the child.
- (f) When a child is placed in the legal custody of a department, agency, organization, entity, or person as provided in this section, when the parent, legal guardian, or legal custodian of the child has resources for child support, the juvenile court shall order child support in conformity with the child support guidelines as set out in Rule 32, Alabama Rules of Judicial Administration. The child support shall be paid to the department, agency, organization, entity, or person in whose legal custody the child is placed and may be expended for those matters that are necessary for the welfare and well-being of those children placed in the departments, agencies, organizations, entities, or persons. In these cases, the juvenile court shall issue income withholding orders subject to state law.
- (g) Whenever the juvenile court commits a child to a state or local department or agency or orders a state or local department or agency to provide services or treatment for a child, that department or agency shall accept the child for commitment, ordered services, or treatment within seven days of the order of the juvenile court. Notwithstanding the foregoing, if compliance with the order of the juvenile court within seven days would place a department or agency in violation of either a state statute or standard, then compliance is not required.⁶⁶

The Legislature reaffirms its belief that juvenile court records, in general, should be confidential. However, it is the intent of the Legislature by Act 99-433, 1999 Regular Session, to provide for limited exceptions to juvenile court record confidentiality to promote more effective communication among juvenile courts, law enforcement agencies, and schools to aid in the rehabilitation of children as well as to lessen the potential for drug use, violence, and other forms of delinquency.

- (a) Notwithstanding subsection (a) of Section 12-15-133, written notice that a child enrolled in a school, kindergarten to grade 12, has been found delinquent of an act which if committed by an adult would be a Class A or B felony or any other crime, at the discretion of the juvenile court, shall be provided within seven days to the superintendent of the school district of attendance, or, if the child attends a private school, to the principal of the school. The juvenile court shall provide the notice using whatever method it deems appropriate or otherwise as decided by the Administrative Office of Courts. The prosecutor may recommend to the juvenile court that notice be given to the school for any delinquent act. Written notice shall include only the offenses, enumerated by the appropriate code section and brief description, found to have been committed by the child and the disposition of the case involving the child. Where applicable, this notice shall be expeditiously transmitted by the district superintendent to the principal at the school of attendance. The principal shall disseminate the information to those counselors directly supervising or reporting on the behavior or progress of the child. In addition, the principal may disseminate the information to any teacher, administrator, or other school employee directly supervising or reporting on the behavior or progress of the child whom the principal believes needs the information to work with the pupil in appropriate fashion or to protect other students and staff.
- (b) Any information received by a teacher, counselor, administrator, or other school employee pursuant to this section shall be received in confidence for the limited purpose of rehabilitating the child and protecting students and staff, and shall not be further disseminated by the teacher, counselor, or administrator, except insofar as communication with the child, his or her parent, legal guardian, legal custodian, law enforcement personnel, and the juvenile probation officer of the child is necessary to effectuate the rehabilitation of the child or to protect students and staff.
- (c) An intentional violation of the confidentiality provisions of this section is a Class A misdemeanor under the jurisdiction of the juvenile court.

§12-15-218.

- (a) In all cases where a child has been granted probation, the juvenile court, as a condition of granting probation to the child, may order the parent, legal guardian, or legal custodian of the child, if he or she is made a party to the proceedings, to assist the juvenile court in ensuring that the child complies with the terms of his or her probation.
- (b) Prior to granting probation, the juvenile court shall explain to the parent, legal guardian, or legal custodian and the child the terms of his or her probation, including the responsibility and the penalty which may be imposed on all parties for failure to comply with the terms of the probation.
- (c) A parent, legal guardian, or legal custodian, who after being made a party fails to assist the child in complying with the terms of the probation, may be held in civil or criminal contempt of court, or both.⁶⁷
- (d) This section shall not apply to the parent, legal guardian, or legal custodian of a child who initiated a case by filing a petition alleging delinquency of the child.

§12-15-219.

- (a) The juvenile court may find a child to be a serious juvenile offender if:
 - (1) The child is adjudicated delinquent and the delinquent act or acts charged in the petition would constitute any of the following if committed by an adult:
 - a. A Class A felony.
 - b. A felony resulting in serious physical injury as defined in subdivision (14) of Section 13A-1-2.
 - c. A felony involving deadly physical force as defined in subdivision (6) of Section 13A-1-2; or a deadly weapon as defined in subdivision (7) of Section 13A-1-2; or a dangerous instrument as defined in subdivision (5) of Section 13A-1-2.
 - (2) The child has been adjudicated delinquent for an act which would constitute a Class A or B felony or burglary in the third degree involving a residence and the child has previously been adjudicated delinquent of two previous acts which would have been a Class A or B felony or burglary in the third degree involving a residence if the acts had been committed by an adult.
- (b) A child found to be a serious juvenile offender shall be committed to the custody of the Department of Youth Services, where he or she shall remain for a minimum of one year.
- (c) A serious juvenile offender review panel shall be created by the Board of the Department of Youth Services. The serious juvenile offender review panel shall review quarterly the progress of each serious juvenile offender and determine at the end of the one-year term served by each child, a further treatment plan for that child. The panel may extend the commitment, order alternative treatment, or release the child. The serious juvenile offender review panel shall provide the juvenile court with all reports and recommendations, and notify the judge in writing of the decision to release the child at least 30 days in advance of the release.
- (d) The Department of Youth Services shall maintain and staff a separate, secure facility and implement programs for serious juvenile offenders. The minimum one-year term required by this section shall be served at the facility and the review panel may extend the period of confinement in the facility as determined necessary.
- (e) Nothing in this section shall be construed to prevent the juvenile court from transferring a child for criminal prosecution pursuant to Section 12-15-203.

- (a) An order of disposition or other adjudication in a proceeding pursuant to subsection (a) of Section 12-15-114 shall not be considered to be a conviction or impose any civil disabilities ordinarily resulting from a conviction of a crime or operate to disqualify the child in any civil service application or appointment.
- (b) The disposition of a child and evidence given in a hearing in the juvenile court shall not be admissible as evidence against him or her in any case or proceeding in any other court, whether before or after reaching majority, except in a dispositional hearing in a juvenile court or in sentencing proceedings after conviction of a crime for the purposes of a presentence study and report or for consideration of an application for youthful offender status.

- (a) An order awarding legal custody or an order of probation made by the juvenile court in the case of a child may be modified, revoked, or extended on motion by:
 - (1) A child, whose legal custody has been transferred to a department, institution, agency, or person, requesting the juvenile court for a modification or termination of the order, alleging that the child is no longer in need of placement or probation and the department, institution, agency, or person has denied application for release of the child or has failed to act upon the application within a reasonable time; or
 - (2) A department, institution, agency, or person vested with legal custody or responsibility for probation, requesting the juvenile court for a modification, an extension, or a termination of the order on the grounds that the action is in the best interests of the child or necessary to safeguard the welfare of the child or the public interests.
- (b) The juvenile court may dismiss the motions filed pursuant to subsection (a) if, after preliminary investigation, it finds that they are without substance. If the juvenile court is of the opinion that the order should be reviewed, upon due notice to all necessary parties as prescribed by rules of court, it may proceed to a hearing in the same manner and under the same safeguards provided for in this chapter for the issuance of the original order. It may thereupon terminate the order if it finds the child is no longer in need of care or rehabilitation or it may enter an order extending or modifying the original order if it finds this action necessary to safeguard the child or the public interests.

 - (2) The child has no parent, legal guardian, legal custodian, or other suitable person able to provide supervision and care for the child.
- (b) The person removing the child shall immediately deliver the child to the Department of Human Resources.⁸²

§12-15-307.

Relative caregivers, preadoptive parents, and foster parents of a child in foster care under the responsibility of the state shall be given notice, verbally or in writing, of the date, time, and place⁸³ of any juvenile court proceeding being held with respect to a child in their care.

Foster parents, preadoptive parents, and relative caregivers of a child in foster care under the responsibility of the state have a right to be heard in any juvenile court proceeding being held with respect to a child in their care.

No foster parent, preadoptive parent, and relative caregiver of a child in foster care under the responsibility of the state shall be made a party to a juvenile court proceeding solely on the basis of this notice and right to be heard pursuant to this section.

§12-15-308.

- (a) When a child alleged to be dependent has been removed from the custody of the parent, legal guardian, or legal custodian and has not been returned to same, a hearing shall be held within 72 hours from the time of removal, Saturdays, Sundays, and holidays included, to determine whether continued shelter care is required.

- (b) Notice of the 72-hour hearing requirement, either verbal or written, stating the date, time, place, and purpose of the hearing and the right to counsel shall be given to the parent, legal guardian, or legal custodian if he or she can be found.
- (c) At the commencement of the 72-hour hearing requirement, the juvenile court shall advise the parent, legal guardian, or legal custodian of the right to counsel and shall appoint counsel if the juvenile court determines he or she is indigent. If the juvenile court already has not done so, it shall appoint a guardian ad litem for a child who is a party to the proceeding. It is the responsibility of the guardian ad litem to present evidence supporting the best interests of the child.⁸⁴ The parent, legal guardian, or legal custodian shall also be informed of the contents of the petition and, except as provided herein, shall be given an opportunity to admit or deny the allegations of the petition.
- (d) All relevant and material evidence helpful in determining the need for shelter care may be admitted by the juvenile court, even though not admissible in subsequent hearings.
- (e) If the child is not released and no parent, legal guardian, or other legal custodian has been notified and none appeared or waived appearance at the hearing, upon the filing of an affidavit by the parent, legal guardian, or legal custodian stating these facts and requesting a hearing, the juvenile court shall hear the matter within 24 hours.
- (f) If the child is not released, the juvenile court, at the earliest opportunity in the case, including the 72-hour hearing requirement or the adjudicatory hearing, may order the parent, legal guardian, or legal custodian to provide a list of names and, if possible, addresses and telephone numbers, of known paternal and maternal relatives to the juvenile court.⁸⁵

§12-15-309.

- (a) When the juvenile court finds that continued shelter care is not required for a child, the juvenile court shall order the return of the child, and in so doing, may impose one or more of the following conditions singly or in combination:
 - (1) Return the child to the custody of the parent, legal guardian, or legal custodian and, if necessary, place the child under the supervision of the Department of Human Resources.
 - (2) Place restrictions on travel, associations, or living conditions of the child pending the adjudicatory hearing.
- (b) An order releasing a child on any conditions specified may at any time be amended to impose additional or different conditions.

§12-15-310.

- (a) An adjudicatory hearing is a hearing at which evidence is presented for a juvenile court to determine if a child is dependent. At the commencement of the hearing, if the parties are not represented by counsel, they shall be informed of the specific allegations in the petition. The parties shall be permitted to admit or deny the allegations prior to the taking of testimony.
- (b) If the allegations are denied by the parties or if they fail to respond, the juvenile court shall proceed to hear evidence on the petition. The juvenile court shall record its findings on whether the child is dependent. If the juvenile court finds that the allegations in the petition have not been proven by clear and convincing evidence, the juvenile court shall dismiss the petition.

- (c) A statement made by a child under the age of 12 describing any act of sexual conduct performed with or on the child by another, not otherwise admissible by statute or court rule, is admissible in all dependency cases brought by the State of Alabama acting by and through a local department of human resources if:
 - (1) The statement was made to a social worker, child sexual abuse therapist or counselor, licensed psychologist, physician, or school or kindergarten teacher or instructor; and
 - (2) The juvenile court finds that the time, content, and circumstances of the statement provide sufficient indicia of reliability. In making its determination, the juvenile court may consider the physical and mental age and maturity of the child, the nature and duration of the abuse or offense, the relationship of the child to the offender, and any other factor deemed appropriate.
- (d) A statement may not be admitted pursuant to this section unless the proponent of the statement makes known to the adverse party the intention of the proponent to offer the statement and the particulars of the statement sufficiently in advance of the proceedings to provide the adverse party with a fair opportunity to rebut the statement. This child hearsay exception applies to all hearings involving dependency including, but not limited to, the 72-hour hearing requirement, the adjudicatory hearing, and the dispositional hearing. The exception contained in this subsection shall not apply to a criminal proceeding or charge.

- (a) If the juvenile court finds from clear and convincing evidence, competent, material, and relevant in nature, that a child is dependent, the juvenile court may proceed immediately, in the absence of objection showing good cause or at a postponed hearing, to make proper disposition of the case.
- (b) In dispositional hearings, all relevant and material evidence helpful in determining the best interests of the child, including verbal and written reports, may be received by the juvenile court even though not admissible in the adjudicatory hearing. The parties or their counsel shall be afforded an opportunity to examine and controvert written reports so received and to cross-examine individuals making reports.
- (c) On its own motion or that of a party, the juvenile court may continue the dispositional hearing pursuant to this section for a reasonable period to receive reports and other evidence bearing on the disposition or need for care or rehabilitation. In this event, the juvenile court shall make an appropriate order for temporary care for the child, or the release of the child from temporary care during the period of the continuance, subject to those conditions as the juvenile court may impose.

- (a) When the juvenile court enters an order removing a child from his or her home and places the child into foster care or custody of the Department of Human Resources pursuant to this chapter, the order shall contain specific findings, if warranted by the evidence, within the following time periods while making child safety the paramount concern:

- (1) In the first order of the juvenile court that sanctions the removal, whether continuation of the residence of the child in the home would be contrary to the welfare of the child. This order may be the pick-up order that the juvenile court issues on the filing of a dependency petition.
- (2) Within 60 days after the child is removed from the home of the child, whether reasonable efforts have been made to prevent removal of the child or whether reasonable efforts were not required to be made.
- (3) Within 12 months after the child is removed from the home of the child and not less than every 12 months thereafter during the continuation of the child in out-of-home care, whether reasonable efforts have been made to finalize the existing permanency plan.⁸⁶

- (b) As used in this chapter, reasonable efforts refers to efforts made to preserve and reunify families prior to the placement of a child in foster care, to prevent or eliminate the need for removing the child from the home of the child, and to make it possible for a child to return safely to the home of the child. In determining the reasonable efforts to be made with respect to a child, and in making these reasonable efforts, the health and safety of the child shall be the paramount concern. If continuation of reasonable efforts is determined to be inconsistent with the permanency plan for the child, reasonable efforts shall be made to place the child in a timely manner in accordance with the permanency plan including, if appropriate, through an interstate placement, and to complete whatever steps are necessary to finalize a permanent plan for the child.
- (c) Reasonable efforts shall not be required to be made with respect to a parent of the child if the juvenile court has determined that the parental rights of the parent to a sibling have been involuntarily terminated or that a parent has done any of the following:
 - (1) Subjected a child to an aggravated circumstance against the child or a sibling of the child and the risk of child abuse or neglect is too high for the child to remain at home safely or to be returned home. An aggravated circumstance includes, but is not limited to, rape, sodomy, incest, aggravated stalking, abandonment, torture, chronic abuse, or sexual abuse. An aggravated circumstance may also include any of the following:
 - a. Allowing a child to use alcohol or illegal drugs to the point of abuse, neglect, or substantial risk of harm.
 - b. Substance misuse or abuse, or both, by a parent or interfering with the ability to keep the child safe and refusal of a parent to participate in or complete treatment, or where treatment has been unsuccessful.
 - c. A parent demonstrating extreme disinterest in the child by doing either of the following:
 1. Not complying with the steps outlined in the individualized service plan or case plan over a period of six months.

2. Repeatedly leaving the child with someone who is unwilling or incapable of providing care and not returning for the child as promised.
 - d. Abandoning an infant or young child when the identity of the child is unknown and the parent is unknown or unable to be located after a diligent search.
 - e. When the parent has an emotional or mental condition and there is clearly no treatment that can improve or strengthen the condition enough to allow the child to remain at home safely or to return home safely.
 - f. When a parent is incarcerated and the child is deprived of a safe, stable, and permanent parent-child relationship.
- (2) Committed murder or manslaughter of another child or murder or manslaughter of the other parent of the child.⁸⁷
- (3) Aided or abetted, attempted, conspired, or solicited to commit murder or manslaughter of another child or aided or abetted, attempted, conspired, or solicited to commit murder or manslaughter of the other parent of the child.⁸⁸
- (4) Committed a felony assault which resulted in the serious bodily injury to the child or another child or to the other parent of the child.⁸⁹ The term serious bodily injury means bodily injury which involves substantial risk of death, extreme physical pain, protracted and obvious disfigurement, or protracted loss or impairment of the function of a bodily member, organ, or mental faculty.
- (d) Nothing in the exceptions to making reasonable efforts listed in subsection (c) shall be interpreted to require the reunification of a child with a stepparent or paramour of a parent under similar circumstances. The crimes listed in subsection (c) may include those from other states or federal crimes if the elements of the crimes are substantially similar to those crimes in this state.
- (e) If reasonable efforts are not made with respect to a child as a result of a determination made by a juvenile court in situations as described above, a permanency hearing, as provided in Section 12-15-315, in which in-state or out-of-state placement options for the child are considered, shall be held for the child within 30 days after the determination. Reasonable efforts shall be made to place the child in a timely manner in accordance with the permanency plan and to complete whatever steps are necessary to finalize permanent placement of the child. Reasonable efforts to place a child for adoption or with a legal guardian or legal custodian, including identifying appropriate in-state and out-of-state placements, may be made concurrently with other reasonable efforts.

- (a) After a petition alleging dependency has been filed, the juvenile court may direct that a study and report to the juvenile court be made by the Department of Human Resources with recommendations concerning the child, his or her family, his or her environment, and other matters relevant to the need for treatment or disposition of the case.
- (b) Where there are indications that the child may be physically ill, mentally ill, or mentally retarded, the juvenile court, on its own motion or motion of a party, may order the child to be examined at a suitable place by a physician, psychiatrist, psychologist, or other qualified examiner under the supervision of a physician, psychiatrist, or psychologist who shall certify the findings of the examiner in writing prior to a hearing on the merits of the petition.

§12-15-314.

- (a) If a child is found to be dependent, the juvenile court may make any of the following orders of disposition to protect the welfare of the child:
- (1) Permit the child to remain with the parent, legal guardian, or other legal custodian of the child, subject to conditions and limitations as the juvenile court may prescribe.
 - (2) Place the child under protective supervision under the Department of Human Resources.
 - (3) Transfer legal custody to any of the following:
 - a. The Department of Human Resources.⁹⁰
 - b. A local public or private agency, organization, or facility willing and able to assume the education, care, and maintenance of the child and which is licensed by the Department of Human Resources or otherwise authorized by law to receive and provide care for the child.
 - c. A relative or other individual who, after study by the Department of Human Resources, is found by the juvenile court to be qualified to receive and care for the child. Unless the juvenile court finds it not in the best interests of the child, a willing, fit, and able relative shall have priority for placement or custody over a non-relative.⁹¹
 - (4) Make any other order as the juvenile court in its discretion shall deem to be for the welfare and best interests of the child.
 - (5) In appropriate cases, award permanent custody to the Department of Human Resources or to a licensed child-placing agency after termination of parental rights and authorization to place for adoption, without appointing a legal guardian, or award temporary custody to the department or a licensed child-placing agency without appointing a legal custodian or legal guardian.
- (b) Unless a child found dependent shall also be found to be delinquent, the child shall not be confined in an institution established for the care and rehabilitation of delinquent children or in a juvenile detention facility. Nothing in this subsection shall be construed to prohibit the placement of dependent children in any other residential facility as defined in subdivision (22) of Section 12-15-102.
- (c) There shall be a rebuttable presumption that children cannot be removed from the custody of their parents solely because of a need for emergency housing.
- (d) In providing shelter or other care for children referred to or coming under the jurisdiction of the juvenile court, the juvenile court and the Department of Human Resources shall utilize only those facilities as have been established, licensed, or approved by law, or by agencies pursuant to law, for those purposes.

- (e) When a child is placed in the legal custody of the Department of Human Resources or any other department, agency, organization, entity, or person pursuant to this section and when the parent, legal guardian, or legal custodian of the child has resources for child support, the juvenile court shall order child support in conformity with the child support guidelines as set out in Rule 32, Alabama Rules of Judicial Administration. The child support shall be paid to the Department of Human Resources or department, agency, any other organization, entity, or person in whose legal custody the child is placed and may be expended for those matters that are necessary for the welfare and well-being of those children placed in the Department of Human Resources or any other departments, agencies, organizations, entities, or person. In these cases, the juvenile court shall issue income withholding orders subject to state law. Any petition alleging dependency of a child filed by the Department of Human Resources shall contain a request for child support.

- (a) Within 12 months of the date a child is removed from the home and placed in out-of-home care, and not less frequently than every 12 months thereafter during the continuation of the child in out-of-home care, the juvenile court shall hold a permanency hearing.⁹² The Department of Human Resources shall present to the juvenile court at the hearing a permanent plan for the child. The juvenile court shall consult with the child, in an age-appropriate manner, regarding the permanency plan and any transition plan to independent living. If a permanent plan is not presented to the juvenile court at this hearing, there shall be a rebuttable presumption that the child should be returned home. This provision is intended to ensure that a permanent plan is prepared by the Department of Human Resources and presented to the juvenile court within 12 months of the placement of any child in foster care and no less frequently than every 12 months thereafter. The purpose of the permanency hearing shall be to determine the permanency plan for the child which may include whether, and, if applicable, when, the child shall be: (1) Returned home on a specific date; (2) placed for adoption with no identified resource or with the current foster parent wherein the Department of Human Resources shall file a petition for termination of parental rights; (3) permanently placed with a relative with a transfer of legal and physical custody to the relative or with a transfer of physical custody to the relative but with the Department of Human Resources retaining legal custody; (4) placed in adult custodial care; or (5) placed in another planned permanent living arrangement. In the case of a child who will not be returned home, at the permanency hearing, the juvenile court shall consider in-state and out-of-state placement options. If the juvenile court determines the permanent plan shall be placement in another planned permanent living arrangement, the Department of Human Resources must document to the juvenile court a compelling reason for determining that it would not be in the best interests of the child to return home, be placed for adoption with no identified resource or with the current foster parent, or be permanently placed with a relative, with a transfer of legal and physical custody to the relative or with a transfer of physical custody to the relative but with the Department of Human Resources retaining legal custody, or be placed in adult custodial care. If the child has been placed in foster care outside the State of Alabama, at the permanency hearing, the juvenile court shall determine whether the out-of-state placement continues to be appropriate and in the best interests of the child. In the case of a child who has attained the age of 16 years, at the permanency hearing, the juvenile court shall consider the services needed to assist the child to make the transition from foster care to independent living.⁹³ In any permanency hearing held with respect to the child, including any hearing regarding the transition of the child from foster care to independent living, the juvenile court shall consult, in an age-appropriate manner, with the child regarding the proposed permanency or transition plan for the child. Permanency plans may be concurrent and the Department of Human Resources may make reasonable efforts concurrently towards multiple permanency goals.

- (b) The permanency hearing order of the juvenile court shall address whether the Department of Human Resources has made reasonable efforts to finalize any existing permanency plan for the child.⁹⁴
- (c) The Department of Human Resources shall provide a copy of available health and education records of the foster child to the foster parent or foster care provider at the time of placement and provide a copy of available health and education records to the foster child, at no cost, at the time the child is emancipated or released from foster care by reason of attaining the age of majority.⁹⁵

§12-15-316.

An order awarding legal custody or an order of protective supervision made by the juvenile court in the case of a child may be modified, terminated, or extended on motion by any of the following:

- (1) A child, whose legal custody has been transferred to a department, institution, agency, or person, requesting the juvenile court for a modification or termination of the order, alleging that the child is no longer dependent or that protective supervision is no longer necessary.
- (2) A department, institution, agency, or person vested with legal custody or responsibility for protective supervision, requesting the juvenile court for a modification, an extension, or a termination of the order on the grounds that this action is in the best interests of the child.

The Department of Human Resources, any public or private licensed child-placing agency, parent, child, or any interested person may file a petition to terminate the parental rights of a parent or parents of a child.

- (1) Mandatory filing of petition by the Department of Human Resources. The Department of Human Resources shall be required to file a petition to terminate the parental rights of a parent or parents of a child, or if the petition has been filed by another party, shall seek to be joined as a party to the petition, and, concurrently, to identify, recruit, process, and approve a qualified family for adoption, in the following circumstances:
 - a. In the case of a child who has been in foster care in the custody of the Department of Human Resources for 15 of the most recent 22 months.
 - b. If a child has been abandoned.⁹⁶

- c. If the parent has committed murder of another child of that parent.
 - d. If the parent has committed manslaughter of another child of that parent.
 - e. If the parent has aided, abetted, attempted, conspired, or solicited to commit murder or manslaughter of another child of that parent.
 - f. If the parent has committed a felony assault that has resulted in serious bodily injury, as defined in Section 12-15-319(a)(5)c., to the child, to another child of the parent, or to the other parent of the child.
- (2) Exceptions to mandatory filing shall include any of the following factors:
- a. The child is being cared for by a relative.
 - b. The Department of Human Resources has documented in the individualized service plan, which shall be available for review by the juvenile court, a compelling reason for determining that filing a petition would not be in the best interests of the child.
 - c. The Department of Human Resources has not provided to the family of the child, consistent with the time period in the individualized service plan of the Department of Human Resources, such services as the Department of Human Resources deems necessary for the safe return of the child to his or her home, if reasonable efforts are required to be made with respect to the child.

§12-15-318.

- (a) Except as otherwise provided by the Alabama Rules of Juvenile Procedure and this section, service of process of termination of parental rights actions shall be made in accordance with the Alabama Rules of Civil Procedure.
- (b) If service of process has not been completed within 90 days of the filing of the termination of parental rights petition, the petitioner shall request service by publication.
- (c) Service of process by publication may not be ordered by the juvenile court unless the following conditions are met:
 - (1) The child who is the subject of the proceedings was abandoned in the state.
 - (2) The state or private department or agency having custody of the child has established, by evidence presented to the juvenile court, that the absent parent or parents are avoiding service of process or their whereabouts are unknown and cannot be ascertained with reasonable diligence.
- (d) Service shall be made by publication in a newspaper of general circulation in the county of the juvenile court having jurisdiction and in the county of the last known address of the parent or parents of the abandoned child, at least once a week for four consecutive weeks.

§12-15-319.

- (a) If the juvenile court finds from clear and convincing evidence, competent, material, and relevant in nature, that the parents of a child are unable or unwilling to discharge their responsibilities to and for the child, or that the conduct or condition of the parents renders them unable to properly care for the child and that the conduct or condition is unlikely to change in the foreseeable future, it may terminate the parental rights of the parents. In determining whether or not the parents are unable or unwilling to discharge their responsibilities to and for the child and to terminate the parental rights, the juvenile court shall consider the following factors including, but not limited to, the following:

- (1) That the parents have abandoned the child, provided that in these cases, proof shall not be required of reasonable efforts to prevent removal or reunite the child with the parents.
 - (2) Emotional illness, mental illness, or mental deficiency of the parent, or excessive use of alcohol or controlled substances, of a duration or nature as to render the parent unable to care for needs of the child.
 - (3) That the parent has tortured, abused, cruelly beaten, or otherwise maltreated the child, or attempted to torture, abuse, cruelly beat, or otherwise maltreat the child, or the child is in clear and present danger of being thus tortured, abused, cruelly beaten, or otherwise maltreated as evidenced by the treatment of a sibling.
 - (4) Conviction of and imprisonment for a felony.
 - (5) Commission by the parents of any of the following:
 - a. Murder or manslaughter of another child of that parent.
 - b. Aiding, abetting, attempting, conspiring, or soliciting to commit murder or manslaughter of another child of that parent.
 - c. A felony assault or abuse which results in serious bodily injury to the surviving child or another child of that parent. The term serious bodily injury means bodily injury which involves substantial risk of death, extreme physical pain, protracted and obvious disfigurement, or protracted loss or impairment of the function of a bodily member, organ, or mental faculty.
 - (6) Unexplained serious physical injury to the child under those circumstances as would indicate that the injuries resulted from the intentional conduct or willful neglect of the parent.
 - (7) That reasonable efforts by the Department of Human Resources or licensed public or private child care agencies leading toward the rehabilitation of the parents have failed.
 - (8) That parental rights to a sibling of the child have been involuntarily terminated.
 - (9) Failure by the parents to provide for the material needs of the child or to pay a reasonable portion of support of the child, where the parent is able to do so.
 - (10) Failure by the parents to maintain regular visits with the child in accordance with a plan devised by the Department of Human Resources, or any public or licensed private child care agency, and agreed to by the parent.
 - (11) Failure by the parents to maintain consistent contact or communication with the child.
 - (12) Lack of effort by the parent to adjust his or her circumstances to meet the needs of the child in accordance with agreements reached, including agreements reached with local departments of human resources or licensed child-placing agencies, in an administrative review or a judicial review.
- (b) A rebuttable presumption that the parents are unable or unwilling to act as parents exists in any case where the parents have abandoned a child and this abandonment continues for a period of four months next preceding the filing of the petition. Nothing in this subsection is intended to prevent the filing of a petition in an abandonment case prior to the end of the four-month period.

§12-15-320.

- (a) Termination of parental rights cases shall be given priority over other cases.
- (b) If the juvenile court determines that the parents of a child are unwilling or unable to act as parents and terminates their parental rights, it may do the following:
 - (1) Transfer or continue the permanent legal custody of the child to the Department of Human Resources or to any public or private licensed child-placing agency able and willing to assume the care and maintenance of the child. An order of the juvenile court which terminates parental rights and awards permanent legal custody to the Department of Human Resources or to a licensed child-placing agency shall mean that the Department of Human Resources or the licensed child-placing agency shall have authority to make permanent plans for the child, including the authority to place for adoption and consent to adoption.
 - (2) Transfer or continue the permanent legal custody of the child to the petitioner who, after study by the Department of Human Resources, is found to be able to properly receive and care for the child.

Where the juvenile court has terminated the parental rights and has placed legal custody of the child with the Department of Human Resources or with a public or private licensed child-placing agency, the juvenile court, at least annually, shall review the circumstances of the child to determine what efforts have been made to achieve permanency for the child.

Upon the termination of parental rights by the juvenile court and placement of permanent custody of a child with any agency or department, the agency or department may place the child for adoption or consent to the adoption of the child.

Appeals relating to dependency and termination of parental rights cases shall take priority over other cases filed on appeal except for emergency matters, including appeals from denial of waiver of parental consent for abortion.⁹⁷

- (b) The petition shall be verified and filed in the county in which the minor or child is located or resides,⁹⁸ petitioning the juvenile court to commit the minor or child to the custody of the department.

- (a) When at the time a petition is filed, a juvenile court shall immediately review the petition and may require the petitioner to be sworn and answer under oath questions in regard to the petition and the minor or child sought to be committed.
- (b) If it appears from the face of the petition or from the testimony of the petitioner that the petition is totally without merit, the juvenile court shall⁹⁹ order the petition dismissed without further proceedings.

§12-15-404.

Service of the petition upon the minor or child sought to be committed and upon his or her parent, legal guardian, or legal custodian shall be as provided in this chapter for service on minors and children generally or as otherwise provided by rules of court promulgated by the Supreme Court of Alabama.

§12-15-405.

- (a) When any minor or child against whom a petition has been filed seeking to commit the minor or child to the custody of the department is initially brought before the juvenile court, the juvenile court shall provide a copy of the petition and if requested,¹⁰⁰ read the petition to the minor or child and to his or her parent, legal guardian, or legal custodian and counsel, and inform those persons verbally and in writing of the date, time, and place of the next hearing to be held in regard to the minor or child, the purpose of the hearing, the rights of the minor or child at the hearing, and the possible consequences of the hearing.

- (c) Notice of the filing of a petition pursuant to this section and of the date of final hearing shall be given to the department by the juvenile court within 14 days prior to the hearing.¹⁰² The notice shall constitute an application for admission to a facility maintained, operated, or under the supervision and control of the department.
- (d) Not less than 24 hours prior to the final hearing, the department shall notify the juvenile court whether adequate facilities are available for the minor or child and to which facility the minor or child should be sent if the juvenile court should determine that the minor or child is to be committed. The minor or child shall not be accepted if the facility does not have adequate facilities available or if acceptance of the minor or child would result in an overcrowded condition.

- (a) At the time that a minor or child sought to be committed is first brought before the juvenile court, the juvenile court shall determine the placement of the minor or child pending further hearings. No limitations shall be placed upon the minor or child unless limitations shall be necessary to prevent the minor or child from doing substantial harm to self or to others or to prevent the minor or child from leaving the jurisdiction of the juvenile court.

- (c) The juvenile court may order the minor or child to be held in a public or private facility pending receipt by the department.

- (a) If the juvenile court finds it necessary to temporarily confine or restrain the minor or child, pending final hearing upon a petition for mental commitment of the minor or child in the custody of any person, department, or agency other than his or her parent, legal guardian, or legal custodian, the juvenile court at the time the confinement is ordered shall set the matter for a hearing within seven days to determine if probable cause exists that the minor or child should be committed. At the probable cause hearing, the juvenile court shall determine if it is necessary to continue the restraint or confinement pending the final hearing.
- (b) Upon a finding of probable cause that the minor or child should be committed, the juvenile court shall enter an order so stating and setting the date, time, and place of the hearing on the merits of the petition.
- (c) The final hearing shall be held on the merits of the petition within 30 days of the date that the minor or child was served with a copy of the petition seeking to commit the minor or child.

§12-15-408.

At all hearings conducted pursuant to this section to commit a minor or child to the custody of the department, the following shall apply:

- (1) The minor or child sought to be committed shall be present unless, prior to the hearing, the child's attorney for the minor or child has filed in writing a waiver of the presence of the minor or child on the ground that the presence of the minor or child would be dangerous to his or her physical or mental health or that the conduct of the minor or child could reasonably be expected to prevent the hearing from being held in an orderly manner and the juvenile court has determined from the evidence that the waiver should be granted and has entered an order approving the waiver.
- (2) The minor or child sought to be committed shall have the right to compel the attendance of and offer the testimony of witnesses, to be confronted with the witnesses in support of the petition and to cross-examine those witnesses, and to testify in his or her own behalf. No minor or child shall be compelled to testify against himself or herself.

- (b) At the final hearing upon a petition seeking to commit a minor or child to the custody of the department on the basis that the minor or child is mentally ill, the juvenile court may grant the petition if clear and convincing evidence¹⁰⁴ proves all of the following:
 - (1) That the minor or child sought to be committed is mentally ill.
 - (2) That, as a consequence of the mental illness, the minor or child poses a real and present threat of substantial harm to himself, herself, or to others.
 - (3) That the threat of substantial harm has been evidenced by a recent overt act.
 - (4) That treatment is available for the mental illness of the minor or child or that confinement is necessary to prevent the minor or child from causing substantial harm to himself, herself, or to others.
 - (5) That commitment is the least restricting alternative necessary and available for treatment of the illness of the minor or child.
- (c) Upon these findings, the juvenile court shall enter an order setting forth the findings and may order the minor or child committed to the custody of the department.

§12-15-410.

- (a) At the final hearing upon a petition seeking to commit a minor or child to the department on the basis that the minor or child is mentally retarded, the juvenile court may grant the petition if clear and convincing evidence¹⁰⁵ proves all of the following:
 - (1) The minor or child sought to be committed is mentally retarded.
 - (2) The mentally retarded minor or child is not mildly retarded, as defined by the department.
 - (3) The minor or child, if allowed to remain in the community, is likely to cause serious injury to himself, herself, or others, or that adequate care, rehabilitation, and training opportunities are available only at a facility provided by the department.
- (b) Upon these findings, the juvenile court shall enter an order setting forth the findings, and may order the minor or child committed to the custody of the department.

§12-15-411.

- (a) Any minor or child committed to the custody of the department who has gained maximum benefit from institutional treatment, who is no longer in need of the services of the department, or who has gained maximum benefit from the programs of the department shall be discharged from the custody of the department. The minor or child shall not be received again by the department pursuant to the original commitment order unless deemed appropriate by a court of proper jurisdiction holding a subsequent hearing.
- (b) The department shall notify the committing juvenile court or the court to which the case is transferred and the parties to the commitment action in writing, which must be received by the juvenile court¹⁰⁶ at least 10 days in advance of the proposed discharge. The committing juvenile court, at the time of discharge, shall transfer custody to a person or another state department or agency deemed suitable by the juvenile court.

The juvenile court committing any minor or child to the custody of the department shall retain jurisdiction over the minor or child so long as the minor or child is in the custody of the department regarding the original commitment.¹⁰⁷

§12-15-413.

The probable cause hearing provided in Section 12-15-407 and the final hearing provided in Section 12-15-408 may be consolidated with the consent of all the parties.¹⁰⁸

If the State Team finds that a participating entity is not complying with its plan or the established minimum standards, the State Team shall require the entity to provide a letter of intent as to how and when specific deficiencies identified will be corrected. If no letter is submitted to the State Team within the time limit specified, or if the deficiencies are not corrected within 45 days after the letter has been submitted to the entity, the funding may be suspended in part or in whole until compliance is achieved.
- (f) A quarterly report shall be submitted to the Alabama Children's Policy Council showing the awards initiated by the State Team during the quarter and the cumulative totals for each new services awards and awards for each special project. An annual report shall also be compiled.

ARTICLE 6.

APPEALS.

A party, including the state or any subdivision of the state, has the right to appeal a judgment or order from any juvenile court proceeding pursuant to this chapter. The procedure for appealing these cases shall be pursuant to rules of procedure adopted by the Supreme Court of Alabama. All appeals from juvenile court proceedings pursuant to this chapter shall take precedence over all other business of the court to which the appeal is taken.

TITLE 26. INFANTS AND INCOMPETENTS.

CHAPTER 24. DEPARTMENT OF CHILDREN'S AFFAIRS.

§26-24-30.

- (a) The Alabama Children's Policy Council is hereby created and shall consist of the following members: Three appointees from business and industry made by the Governor; the Lieutenant Governor; the Speaker of the House of Representatives; two members of the Alabama Senate, one appointed by the Lieutenant Governor and one appointed by the President Pro Tempore of the Senate; two members of the House of Representatives appointed by the Speaker of the House of Representatives; the Chief Justice of the Supreme Court of Alabama; the legal advisor to the Governor; the Attorney General; the President of the Juvenile and Family Court Judges' Association; the Commissioner of the Department of Corrections; the President of the District Attorneys' Association; the President of the Chief Juvenile Probation Officers' Association; the Commissioner of the

The appointed members of the Alabama Children's Policy Council shall reflect the racial, gender, geographic, urban/rural, and economic diversity of the state. All appointments are subject to Senate confirmation and shall be effective until acted upon by the Senate.

- (b) The Commissioner of the Department of Children's Affairs shall serve as chair and the Chief Justice of the Supreme Court of Alabama as vice chair. The five Alabama Children's Policy Council appointees and the three appointees of the Governor shall serve on the Alabama Children's Policy Council for two years from October 1 following their appointment and until their successors are selected, and may be reappointed for additional terms. Any vacancies in the appointed positions shall be filled in like manner as their predecessor and shall serve for a full term and until their successors are selected. If the Alabama Children's Policy Council deems it necessary or advisable, it may elect other officers and adopt by-laws. The vice chair and any other officers of the Alabama Children's Policy Council, other than the chair, shall hold these offices for a period as designated by the Alabama Children's Policy Council, or for so long as they remain members of the Alabama Children's Policy Council. The Alabama Children's Policy Council shall meet at the call of the chair at least once annually prior to September 1 of each fiscal year, and at other times as, in the opinion of the chair, additional meetings are needed.
- (c) It shall be the duty of the Alabama Children's Policy Council and the Chief Justice of the Supreme Court of Alabama to review the report prepared by the Department of Children's Affairs pursuant to Section 26-24-34 and to make recommendations as it deems necessary and appropriate to the Governor and Legislature by October 1 of each fiscal year. It shall also be the duty of the Alabama Children's Policy Council to develop a state resource guide, which may be automated, including procedural information concerning how to access these services. This guide shall be distributed to departments, agencies, and organizations serving children, as well as the county children's policy councils in each county of the state and the general public.

§26-24-31.

- (a) There is hereby established the Alabama Children's Policy Council Fund into which there is automatically appropriated twenty thousand dollars ($20,000) annually at the beginning of each fiscal year. Any funds remaining in the Alabama Children's Policy Council Fund at the end of any fiscal year shall not revert to the State General Fund. The Comptroller shall transfer the moneys from the State General Fund to the Alabama Children's Policy Council Fund annually at the beginning of each fiscal year and the moneys in the fund shall be expended for the travel expenses of members of the Alabama Children's Policy Council who are not otherwise reimbursed by the state and such other necessary operating costs and expenses as approved by the chair of the Alabama Children's Policy Council. Travel and per diem for all members of the Alabama Children's Policy Council shall be calculated and paid at the same rate applicable to state employees. Any expenses of the Alabama Children's Policy Council, including printing, postage, and mailing costs, which cannot be paid because of insufficient funds, shall be charged to the departments and agencies represented by membership on the Alabama Children's Policy Council on a pro-rata basis, as calculated by the chair.

- (b) The Alabama Children's Policy Council may accept and use funds available to it from all sources, including, but not limited to, grants, appropriations, gifts, and donations for the purpose of implementing this chapter. All funds shall be deposited into the Alabama Children's Policy Council Fund, which shall be under the management of the Alabama Children's Policy Council. Moneys of the fund may be withdrawn by vouchers or checks signed by the chair of the Alabama Children's Policy Council.

The members of the Alabama Children's Policy Council who are officers or employees of the State of Alabama shall be entitled to be reimbursed for their expenses, including travel, lodging, food, and other expenses at the same rate as other state employees. These expenses shall be paid by the Comptroller from funds appropriated from the State Treasury to the department or agency which the member represents.

§26-24-33.

- (a) A county children's policy council is hereby created in each county of the state. The county children's policy council shall consist of the following members: A juvenile court judge in each county; the county director of the Department of Human Resources; a county representative of the Department of Mental Health and Mental Retardation; a county representative of the Department of Youth Services; a county representative of the Department of Rehabilitation Services, the Medicaid Agency, the Department of Public Safety, and the Alcoholic Beverage Control Board, provided they have a physical presence in the county; the county superintendent of education and any city superintendent of education in the county; the county chief juvenile probation officer; a representative of the county health department; the district attorney; local legislators; the chair of the county commission; the sheriff, and at least¹¹⁶ seven persons to be appointed by the county children's policy council from the community including, but not limited to, state and local government officials, practicing attorneys, community organizations, business and industry, and representatives of any other agencies or organizations providing services to families and children in the county.
- (b) All members of the county children's policy council shall serve on the county children's policy council for two years and until their successors are appointed, except those who serve by virtue of holding a designated office. The county children's policy council shall be convened at least once each quarter at the call of the chair. The juvenile court judge presiding over the county children's policy council may nominate a member to serve as chair.¹¹⁷ At the first meeting of the county children's policy council, the county children's policy council shall select its additional council members. If the county children's policy council deems it necessary or advisable, it may elect other officers and adopt bylaws. The additional officers shall hold office for the period as designated by the county children's policy council.

§26-24-34.

The duties of the county children's policy council shall include, but not be limited to, the following: Reviewing the needs of children in the county and the responsibilities assigned each department or agency by law; determining areas of responsibility and identifying areas of duplication or conflict between departments and agencies in the county; identifying local resources and developing, in conjunction with the Department of Children's Affairs, and updating annually, a local resource guide to services available to children which shall include procedural information concerning how to access those local services; articulating and communicating to the local community the needs of children; and submitting an annual report to the Department of Children's Affairs by July 1 of each year on the local services provided to children, local needs of children, and recommendations of the county children's policy council based on data from the previous fiscal year ending September 30. The Department of Children's Affairs shall then, by September 1 of each year, submit its summary recommendations based on the reports, along with a copy of each local report to the Alabama Children's Policy Council. The local resource guides shall be used by the Alabama Children's Policy Council in compiling a state resource guide, which may be automated and shall be distributed to the general public and to agencies and organizations serving children.

All references to the "Alabama Juvenile Justice Coordinating Council" and to "county juvenile justice coordinating councils" in this code, are changed to the "Alabama Children's Policy Council" and "county children's policy councils" respectively. All other laws, rules, regulations, and legal references of any kind to the "Alabama Juvenile Justice Coordinating Council" or to "county juvenile justice coordinating councils" shall be changed to the "Alabama Children's Policy Council" or to "county children's policy councils" respectively when this code is next reprinted and in other laws, rules, regulations, and legal references as is appropriate, timely, and economically feasible.

Section 7.

This act shall become effective on January 1 following its passage and approval by the Governor, or its otherwise becoming law except that the provisions of Section 12-15-208(a)(1), Code of Alabama 1975, as provided in this act, regarding status offenders shall not become effective until October 1, 2009.

ENDNOTES

¹ Current law defines “child” to include individuals who are 18 years of age but who are before the court for matters arising before the individual’s 18th birthday. This provision will revise the definition of child in a manner that will effectively expand the court’s jurisdiction to include an individual who is 19 or 20 years of age, but who is alleged to have committed a delinquent act before his or her 18th birthday. This provision would also vest the juvenile court with original jurisdiction over delinquency petitions filed against persons who are 21 years of age or older, provided that the petition alleges that the delinquent was committed before the person’s 18th birthday and provided that the offense has no statute of limitation. Where the petition alleges that a delinquent act was committed after the person’s 14th birthday, the court may grant a motion to transfer the case to a court handling criminal matters.

This provision will fill a jurisdictional gap. Under current law, no court has jurisdiction of a criminal offense committed by a child prior to his or her 14th birthday, if no prosecution for that offense was commenced prior to the child’s 21st birthday. This section would vest jurisdiction of such offenses in juvenile court.

² This provision will codify the State Board of Education’s policy concerning habitual truancy. In addition, this provision will provide an affirmative defense for children whose parent, legal guardian, or legal custodian are solely responsible for the child’s truancy.

³ This new definition will clearly distinguish between the roles and duties of (a) a child’s attorney, who under Rule 1.2(a) of the Alabama Rules of Professional Conduct, is required to “abide by the client’s decisions concerning the objectives of the representation” and (b) a child’s guardian ad litem (“GAL”), who is not bound by the child’s decisions and directions, but is required to exercise the GAL’s own best judgment regarding the best interests of the child.

⁴ The word “nonfelony” will be added to subsection (6)(a)(1) to bring felony traffic and water safety offenses within the jurisdiction of the juvenile court when such offenses are committed by 16- and 17-year-olds.

⁶ Subsection (c) of the current definition of “dependent child” will be deleted to prevent the filing of straight custody disputes in juvenile courts. See Ala. Code § 12-15-1(10)(c) (2007) (defining “dependent child,” in part, as a child “[w]hose custody is the subject of controversy”). This change will leave the circuit court with jurisdiction and avoid the possibility of conflicting custody orders.

⁷ This provision will clarify that the commission of a status offense is not a sufficient basis, in and of itself, for a court to determine a child to be dependent.

⁸ This new definition will clearly distinguish between the roles and duties of (a) a child’s attorney, who under Rule 1.2(a) of the Alabama Rules of Professional Conduct, is required to “abide by the client’s decisions concerning the objectives of the representation” and (b) a child’s guardian ad litem (“GAL”), who is not bound by the child’s decisions and directions, but is required to exercise the GAL’s own best judgment regarding the best interests of the child. Ala.Code § 26-14-11 (2007) requires appointment of a guardian ad litem “in every [court] case involving an abused or neglected child.” This provision complies with federal law that requires such a state law provision in order for states to qualify for federal money under child abuse and neglect programs.

⁹ The phrase “or who is acting in loco parentis” will be deleted from the current definition of “legal custodian” to ensure that persons, departments, or agencies are not deemed to have acquired legal custodian status without a court order. Ala. Code § 12-15-1(16) (2007) (defining legal custodian as “[a] person, agency, or department, other than a parent or legal guardian, to whom legal custody of the child has been given by court order or who is acting in loco parentis.”).

¹⁰ The phrase “and to determine where and with whom the child shall live within the state” will be deleted from the current definition of “legal custody” to prevent custodians from moving the child without the court’s knowledge. Ala. Code § 12-15-1(17) (2007) (defining “legal custody” as including “the right to have physical custody of the child and to determine where and with whom the child shall live within the state”).

¹¹ This new definition will help bring Alabama into compliance with the federal Juvenile Justice and Delinquency Prevention Act, 42 U.S.C. § 5633, which prohibits the use of secure custody for status offenders, non-offenders, and federal wards. Non-compliance with this federal Act jeopardizes the state’s eligibility for millions of dollars in federal funding for delinquency prevention programs. The definition in subsection (24) is based on the federal definition. See Office of Juvenile Justice and Delinquency Prevention, Guidance Manual for Monitoring Facilities Under the Juvenile Justice and Delinquency Prevention Act of 2002 at 6 (Jan. 2007) (defining “secure custody” as follows: “As used to define a detention or correctional facility, this term includes residential facilities having construction features designed to physically restrict the movements and activities of persons in custody (e.g., locked rooms and buildings, fences, or other physical structures). It does not include facilities where physical restriction of movement or activity is provided solely through facility staff (i.e., staff secure.)”).

¹² In recognition that the male and female children and minors that come before the juvenile courts are from a wide variety of racial, ethnic, economic and other groups, this provision will require that the advisory boards for the juvenile courts reflect that variety and diversity.

¹³ Section 12-15-208 places restrictions upon the authority of courts to place children in secure custody. This language will clarify the authority to order a child into custody under §12-15-107 is limited by the restrictions contained in §12-15-208, many of which are also required by the federal Juvenile Justice and Delinquency Prevention Act. See 42 U.S.C. § 5633.

¹⁴ This provision will help insure adequate health care for children before the juvenile court and to avoid unnecessary expenditure of state funds where the child's health care expenses are covered by insurance or Medicaid.

¹⁵ This provision will clarify that if a juvenile court finds a child in indirect contempt that is not based on a delinquency petition having been filed against the child, the finding does not, in and of itself, constitute an adjudication of delinquency.

¹⁶ This provision will prevent custody disputes, which should be adjudicated in circuit court, from being filed as dependency actions in juvenile court. The provision will also provide a safeguard against the entry of conflicting custody orders by courts of concurrent jurisdiction.

¹⁷ This provision will clarify that the juvenile court has no jurisdiction over delinquency petitions filed against persons who are 21 years of age or older, except where the petition alleges that a person has committed a delinquent act prior to his or her 18th birthday and where the offense has no statute of limitation.

²⁰ This new language will clarify that a person must be at least 18 years of age to sign a petition. It will also clarify that a juvenile court intake officer is not authorized to sign a petition on behalf of a party. A juvenile court intake officer is "a judicial branch employee who is neutral and detached from executive and legislative branch activities." Cf. Alabama Rules of Juvenile Procedure, Rule 8. Juvenile intake officers have the authority and the power to formally charge a juvenile by placing the complainant under oath and hearing testimony. By signing the complaint, an intake officer would effectively become a witness in the case, which would be fundamentally inconsistent with his or her role as a neutral and detached judicial officer, similar to a magistrate.)

²¹ This provision will clarify that in certain circumstances, a law enforcement officer's authority to take a young person into custody for his or her own protection includes minors (18-year-olds) as well as children (generally persons who are under 18 years of age).

²² The phrase "and willing" will be deleted from current law because a parent's or legal guardian's refusal to assume custody is not an adequate basis to subject a child to confinement in a juvenile detention center. Ala. Code § 12-15-58(a) (2007) (requiring that child taken into custody be released “to the child’s parents, guardian, custodian or other suitable person able and willing to provide supervision and care for the child”) (emphasis added). With respect to other persons, willingness to assume custody is implicit in suitability.

²³ Current law refers to curfew detention facilities. Ala. Code § 12-15-58(a)(3) (2007) (“In curfew violation cases, if the child is not released, the child may be taken to a facility which has been previously approved by the court as a curfew detention facility. A child taken to a curfew detention facility shall be released within eight hours.”). These references will be deleted in order to help bring the State into compliance with federal law, which prohibits the detention of curfew violators and other status offenders. See 42 U.S.C. § 5633(a)(11) (requiring states to provide that “juveniles who are charged with or who have committed an offense that would not be criminal if committed by an adult . . . shall not be placed in secure detention facilities or secure correctional facilities”); 28 C.F.R. § 31.304 (defining status offender as a “juvenile offender who has been charged with or adjudicated for conduct which would not, under the law of the jurisdiction in which the offense was committed, be a crime if committed by an adult”).

²⁴ The addition of the words “or minor” will clarify that the duties set forth in this subsection are also owed to 18-year-olds.

²⁶ The phrase “and willing” will be deleted from current law because a parent’s or legal guardian’s refusal to assume custody is not an adequate basis to subject a child to confinement in a juvenile detention center. Ala. Code § 12-15-59(a)(1) (2007) (authorizing continued detention of child who “has no parent, guardian, custodian or other suitable person able and willing to provide supervision and care for such child”) (emphasis added). With respect to other persons, willingness to assume custody is implicit in suitability.

²⁷ This provision will recognize additional circumstances under which a mental or physical examination of a child may be ordered, based on similar provisions for adult defendants in Rule 11 of the Alabama Rules of Criminal Procedure.

²⁸ Consistent with the definition of “status offender,” in Section 12-15-201, this provision will clarify that a child in need of supervision may not be treated as a delinquent based solely on probation violations. Cf. Section 12-15-201(4) (providing that “[a]n adjudicated status offender who violates the terms of his or her probation or aftercare remains a status offender for purposes of Section 208(a)(1), unless the child is contemporaneously adjudicated for having committed a delinquent act that is not a status offense.”).

²⁹ This provision will prevent inadvertent disclosure of sensitive information by separating the juvenile records listed in subdivision (a) from others and to thereby help maintain the confidentiality of those portions of juvenile courts’ records.

³⁰ Current law does not clearly allow an attorney for a criminal defendant to have access to the juvenile court records of an adult client. This provision will allow such attorneys the right to review and obtain copies of their clients' juvenile court records.

³¹ This provision will allow these specified court officials to inspect and copy juvenile court records for the purpose of completing sentencing standards worksheets.

³² This provision will allow the Alabama Sentencing Commission to inspect and copy juvenile court records.

³³ Current law provides that after a hearing and upon a determining of a legitimate interest, the juvenile court may disclose confidential information to otherwise unauthorized parties. See Ala. Code § 12-15-100(a)(3) (2007) (authorizing inspection and copying of confidential records by “[a]ny other person or agency that the juvenile court determines, after a hearing has a legitimate interest in the case or in the work of the court”). This provision will replace the “legitimate interest” standard with a “legitimate need” standard and will facilitate necessary disclosures by replacing the hearing requirement with a written procedure.

³⁴ This provision will allow not only inspection of the specified documents by the victim of an offense, but also copying of the documents.

³⁵ The phrase “or the victim’s representatives” in current law will be deleted to preserve access to certain records by the victim of an offense, but require victims’ representatives to satisfy the generally applicable legitimate need standard. Ala. Code § 12-15-100(d) (2007) (“Petitions, motions, court notices, or dispositions shall be open to inspection by the victim or the victim's representatives.”) (emphasis added).

³⁶ This provision will allow electronic access to juvenile court records by persons, departments or state agencies already authorized to inspect and copy these records in paper form.

³⁷ This provision will authorize the imposition of civil sanctions against persons who violate the confidentiality provisions of Section 12-15-133.

³⁸ This provision will clarify that the clerk of the juvenile court is the official charged with providing the notices required by this section.

³⁹ This new definition will help bring Alabama into compliance with the federal Juvenile Justice and Delinquency Prevention Act, which restricts the placement of status offenders in secure custody. Non-compliance with this federal mandate jeopardizes the state’s eligibility for millions of dollars in federal funding for delinquency prevention programs. The definition of status offender is based on the federal definition. See 42 U.S.C. § 5633(a)(11) (requiring states to provide that “juveniles who are charged with or who have committed an offense that would not be criminal if committed by an adult . . . shall not be placed in secure detention facilities or secure correctional facilities”); 28 C.F.R. § 31.304 (defining status offender as a “juvenile offender who has been charged with or adjudicated for conduct which would not, under the law of the jurisdiction in which the offense was committed, be a crime if committed by an adult”).

The final sentence of subsection (4) will clarify that a status offender who violates the terms of his or her probation may not be treated as a delinquent child unless the child is also adjudicated for committing a delinquent act. Cf. Miss. Code Ann. § 43-21-605(1)(g)(iii) (“No child shall be placed in the custody of a state training school for a status offense or for contempt of or revocation of a status offense adjudication unless the child is contemporaneously adjudicated for having committed an act of delinquency that is not a status offense.”).

⁴¹ This provision will clarify the duties owed to a child by his or her counsel. See In re Gault, 387 U.S. 1, 36 (1967) (“The juvenile needs the assistance of counsel to cope with problems of law, to make skilled inquiry into the facts, to insist upon regularity of the proceedings, and to ascertain whether he has a defense and to prepare and submit it. The child ‘requires the guiding hand of counsel at every step in the proceedings against him.’”) (footnotes omitted); id. at 38 n.65 (“[N]o single action holds more potential for achieving procedural justice for the child in the juvenile court than provision of counsel. The presence of an independent legal representative of the child, or of his parent, is the keystone of the whole structure of guarantees that a minimum system of procedural justice requires. The rights to confront one’s accusers, to cross-examine witnesses, to present evidence and testimony of one’s own, to be unaffected by prejudicial and unreliable evidence, to participate meaningfully in the dispositional decision, to take an appeal have substantial meaning for the overwhelming majority of persons brought before the juvenile court only if they are provided with competent lawyers who can invoke those rights effectively. The most informal and well-intentioned of judicial proceedings are technical; few adults without legal training can influence or even understand them; certainly children cannot. Papers are drawn and charges expressed in legal language. Events follow one another in a manner that appears arbitrary and confusing to the uninitiated. Decisions, unexplained, appear too official to challenge. But with lawyers come records of proceedings; records make possible appeals which, even if they do not occur, impart by their possibility a healthy atmosphere of accountability. . . . [I]n all cases children need advocates to speak for them and guard their interests, particularly when disposition decisions are made. It is the disposition stage at which the opportunity arises to offer individualized treatment plans and in which the danger inheres that the court’s coercive power will be applied without adequate knowledge of the circumstances.”) (citation omitted); see also National Council of Juvenile and Family Court Judges, Juvenile Delinquency Guidelines: Improving Court Practice in Juvenile Delinquency Cases 30-31 & 105 (2005) (describing duties of counsel in delinquency proceedings).

⁴² This provision will ensure that Alabama law is consistent with federal constitutional law. See Maryland v. Craig, 497 U.S. 836 (1990); In re Gault, 387 U.S. 1, 56 (1967).

⁴³ Current law requires that a prosecutor consult with the juvenile probation officer before filing a motion to transfer. This provision will replace the consultation requirement with a notice requirement.

⁴⁴ Current law provides that “[a] child whose case is transferred for criminal prosecution shall not be granted youthful offender status.” Ala. Code § 12-15-34(h) (2007). This prohibition will be deleted because it creates an unfair and potentially unconstitutional disparity in the rights of two similarly situated groups: (a) persons aged 18-20 who are charged with an offense listed in § 203, and (b) persons aged 14 or older who are charged with the same offense and transferred from juvenile court to a court handling criminal matters. Under current law, the older group is eligible for youthful offender status, but the younger group is not.

⁴⁵ This provision would correct a gap in current law by clarifying that the juvenile court maintains jurisdiction over lesser included and lesser related offenses when the basis for terminating juvenile jurisdiction disappears due to either: (1) a failure to indict on enumerated charges or (2) dismissal of enumerated charges.

⁴⁶ The addition of the words "pending or" will make this subsection consistent with § 12-15-203(i) providing that the jurisdiction of the juvenile court shall terminate as to any pending or subsequent offenses after a person has been convicted or adjudicated a youthful offender in the adult court.

⁴⁷ This new language will require consultation between juvenile courts prior to transfer, thereby facilitating transfers and preventing unnecessary delays and costs.

⁴⁸ This new language will clarify that a child may not be detained beyond 72 hours unless the court finds probable cause.

⁴⁹ This new language will specify that the juvenile probation officer is the party responsible for providing notice of the detention hearing to the parent, legal guardian, or legal custody, as well as to children over 12 years old.

⁵¹ Effective October 1, 2009, subsection (a)(1) will restrict the authority of courts to incarcerate children who have not committed a delinquent act. This new subsection will bring Alabama into compliance with the federal Juvenile Justice and Delinquency Prevention Act, which prohibits the use of secure facilities for status offenders. See 42 U.S.C. § 5633(a)(11); see also Office of Juvenile Justice and Delinquency Prevention, Guidance Manual for Monitoring Facilities Under the Juvenile Justice and Delinquency Prevention Act of 2002 (Jan. 2007). Non-compliance with this federal mandate to deinstitutionalize status offenders jeopardizes the state's eligibility for millions of dollars in federal funding for delinquency prevention programs. Subsection (a)(1) will incorporate some, but not all, of the exceptions permitted by federal law. See infra note 55 (describing exceptions).

⁵² As required by the mandate to deinstitutionalize status offenders in the federal Juvenile Justice and Delinquency Prevention Act, subsection (a)(2) will prohibit the use of juvenile detention facilities to hold juvenile aliens who have not been charged with any offense but are being held solely to secure appearance as a witness or pending deportation. See 42 U.S.C. § 5633(a)(11)(B)(ii)(I) (“[J]uveniles . . . (i) who are not charged with any offense; and (ii) who are . . . (I) aliens . . . shall not be placed in secure detention facilities or secure correctional facilities.”). Non-compliance with this federal mandate jeopardizes the state's eligibility for millions of dollars in federal funding for delinquency prevention programs.

⁵⁴ Subsection (a)(4) will restrict the placement of children under the age of 13 in juvenile detention facilities, unless the child is charged with a Class A felony or another offense that has resulted in death or serious bodily injury. Subject to subsection (a)(1), children aged 11 or 12 years of age may be detained by order of the juvenile court, even if the offense does not fall within either exception.

⁵⁶ As required by the mandate to remove juveniles from adult jails (“jail removal mandate”) in the federal Juvenile Justice and Delinquency Prevention Act, subsection (c) will prohibit the placement of children in jails or other locked facilities for adults, subject to three exceptions. See 42 U.S.C. § 5633(a)(13); see also Office of Juvenile Justice and Delinquency Prevention, Guidance Manual for Monitoring Facilities Under the Juvenile Justice and Delinquency Prevention Act of 2002 (Jan. 2007). Non-compliance with the jail removal mandate jeopardizes the state's eligibility for millions of dollars in federal funding for delinquency prevention programs. Subsection (c) is subject to three exceptions, each of which is permitted by federal law.

⁵⁷ As required by the mandate to ensure that juveniles housed with adult offenders are separated from adults in terms of sight and in terms of sound (“separation mandate”) in the federal Juvenile Justice and Delinquency Prevention Act, subsection (d) will prohibit accused or adjudicated children from having any contact with adult inmates. See 42 U.S.C. § 5633(a)(12). This provision will expressly prohibit shock incarceration programs like “Scared Straight,” which involve bringing juveniles into adult facilities for the purpose of scaring them into modifying their behavior. Such programs are impermissible under federal law and jeopardize the state’s eligibility for millions of dollars in federal funding for delinquency prevention programs. See Office of Juvenile Justice and Delinquency Prevention, Guidance Manual for Monitoring Facilities Under the Juvenile Justice and Delinquency Prevention Act of 2002 at 15 (Jan. 2007) (“[T]he state must assure that no juvenile offender shall enter under public authority, for any amount of time, into a secure setting or secure section of an adult jail, lockup, or correctional facility as a disposition of an offense or as a means of modifying their behavior (e.g., Shock Incarceration or Scared Straight).”).

⁵⁸ This provision will confirm the juvenile court’s existing authority to appoint a guardian ad litem (in addition to a child’s attorney) to advocate for a child with a pending CHINS or delinquency matter. Such appointments are infrequent, but are sometimes necessary. For example, a child who is the subject of simultaneous delinquency and dependency petitions must be represented by a child’s attorney as well as a guardian ad litem.

⁵⁹ This new language would clarify that a juvenile probation officer is authorized to recommend further inquiry into the child’s mental health needs. Cf. Alabama Rules of Criminal Procedure, Rule 11.

⁶⁰ Section 12-15-208 places restrictions upon the authority of courts to place children in secure custody. This language will clarify that the court’s dispositional authority is subject to the restrictions contained in §12-15-208, many of which are required by the federal Juvenile Justice and Delinquency Prevention Act. See 42 U.S.C. § 5633.

⁶² This language will ensure that status offenders are not inappropriately placed in the custody of the Department of Human Resources.

⁶³ When a status offender is referred to the county children’s services facilitation team prior to a transfer of custody to the Department of Human Resources, this provision will require that the juvenile probation officer continue to provide case management services for the child, unless and until the team determines that another person should serve as case manager.

⁶⁴ This new language will ensure compliance with all procedural requirements necessary to protect the child’s eligibility for federal funding when the child is placed with the Department of Human Resources.

⁶⁵ This subsection will provide guidance to courts who must determine whether a child in need of supervision is “not amenable to treatment or rehabilitation.” To reduce interpretive differences from county to county and prevent inappropriate and unnecessary commitments of status offenders to the Department of Youth Services, subsection (c) specifies a procedure to be followed and articulates several factors that must be considered by the court in determining whether a child in need of supervision is “not amenable to treatment.”

⁶⁶ Current law requires that several broad categories of children be placed in alternative school by operation of law. See Ala. Code § 12-15-71(k) – (o) (2007). These sections will be deleted in order to restore the discretion of local school boards to determine the appropriate educational setting and placement of students on an individualized basis, as required by federal law. See 20 U.S.C. § 1414(d) (2007); 20 U.S.C. § 1412(a)(5)(B) (2007). In order to receive funding under the Individual with Disabilities Education Act (20 U.S.C.S. § 1400 et seq. (2007)), school districts must provide individualized educational services to students with disabilities.

⁶⁷ This provision will authorize the juvenile court to hold a parent, legal guardian, or legal custodian in civil contempt (in addition to or instead of criminal contempt) for failing to assist a child in complying with the terms of the child’s probation.

⁶⁸ This new definition of “relative” is consistent with Ex parte W.T.M., 851 So.2d 55 (Ala. Civ. App. 2002), in which the court recognized a preference for placement with a relative over a non-relative. This definition will only apply in this Article.

⁶⁹ This new language will provide that venue in dependency cases may be in the county where the acts that are the basis of the dependency petition occurred.

⁷¹ Subsection (c) will provide for venue in the child’s county of residence where a petition to modify an award of custody or visitation is filed and where all parties have left the county of original jurisdiction.

⁷² Subsection (d) will define “county where the child resides” to standardize the interpretation of this phrase.

⁷³ This new language will require consultation between juvenile courts prior to transfer, thereby facilitating transfers and preventing unnecessary delays and costs.

⁷⁴ Subsection (b) will define “county of the residence of the child” to standardize the interpretation of this phrase.

⁷⁵ This subsection will mandate that guardians ad litem be appointed to represent children in all dependency and termination of parental rights cases and clarify that the responsibility of a guardian ad litem is to protect the best interests of the child, as required by federal and state law. See 42 U.S.C. § 5106a(b)(2)(A)(viii) (providing that in order to receive federal funding for child abuse and neglect prevention and treatment programs, a State must provide a certification by the chief executive officer that the State has “provisions and procedures requiring that in every case involving an abused or neglected child which results in a judicial proceeding, a guardian ad litem, . . . , shall be appointed to represent the child in such proceedings . . . (II) to make recommendations to the court concerning the best interests of the child”); Ala. Code § 26-14-11 (2007) (“In every case involving an abused or neglected child which results in a judicial proceeding, an attorney shall be appointed to represent the child in such proceedings. Such attorney will represent the rights, interests, welfare and well-being of the child, and serve as guardian ad litem for said child.”).

⁷⁶ This subsection was added to provide some minimum duties for guardians ad litem, based on standards promulgated by the American Bar Association. See American Bar Association, Standards of Practice for Lawyers Who Represent Children in Abuse and Neglect Cases (1996), at Stds. C-1, C-2, C-3, C-4, and D-1.

⁷⁷ As required by federal law, this subsection will provide that guardians ad litem representing children must receive training appropriate to their role. See 42 U.S.C. § 5106a(b)(2)(A)(xiii) (requiring, as a condition of eligibility for federal funding, that “in every case involving an abused or neglected child which results in a judicial proceeding, a guardian ad litem, who has received training appropriate to the role, and who may be an attorney or a court appointed special advocate who has received training appropriate to that role (or both), shall be appointed to represent the child in such proceedings”).

⁷⁹ This subsection will clarify that a single guardian ad litem (“GAL”) may be appointed to protect the best interests of more than one child of the same parent. A single GAL may also be appointed to protect the best interests of both a minor (or otherwise incapacitated) parent as well as his or her child.

⁸⁰ This subsection was added to recognize the juvenile court’s discretion to grant a request by an indigent petitioner for an appointed attorney in a dependency case.

⁸¹ This subsection will codify W.C. v. State Dept. of Human Resources, 887 So.2d 251 (Ala. Civ. App. 2003), in which the court recognized that an indigent parent in a termination of parental rights (“TPR”) matter has a due process right under the Alabama Constitution to the assistance of appointed counsel. Under this amended provision, a parent, legal guardian, or legal custodian who is a respondent in a TPR matter will be automatically entitled to appointed counsel, even if counsel is not requested.

⁸³ This language will bring Alabama Code into compliance with federal law requiring that the State provide “for a case review system which meets the requirements described in section 675(5)(B).” 42 U.S.C. § 671(a)(16); see also 42 U.S.C. § 675(5)(G) (requiring that case review system include a procedure for assuring that “the foster parents (if any) of a child and any preadoptive parent or relative providing care for the child are provided with notice of . . . any proceeding to be held with respect to the child”). Non-compliance with this federal requirement jeopardizes the State’s eligibility for federal funding for foster care maintenance payments and adoption assistance.

⁸⁵ This language will codify the juvenile court’s authority to order that a parent, legal guardian, or legal custodian provide a list of relatives in order to expedite the process of identifying a child’s relative resources.

⁸⁷ This language will expand the types of foster care cases in which the state is excused from making reasonable efforts to preserve and reunify a family.

⁸⁸ This language will expand the types of foster care cases in which the state is excused from making reasonable efforts to preserve and reunify a family.

⁸⁹ This language will expand the types of foster care cases in which the state is excused from making reasonable efforts to preserve and reunify a family.

⁹⁰ Current law provides that the court may “[t]ransfer legal custody [of a dependent child] to . . . The Department of Human Resources; provided, that the department is equipped to care for the child.” Ala. Code § 12-15-71(a)(3)(a) (2007) (emphasis added). The provision will be deleted in order to clarify that it is the Department’s responsibility to provide services for dependent children in the agency’s custody.

⁹¹ This new language is consistent with Ex parte W.T.M., 851 So.2d 55 (Ala. Civ. App. 2002), in which the court recognized a preference for placement with a relative over a non-relative.

⁹² This language will bring the Alabama Code into compliance with federal law requiring that the State provide “for a case review system which meets the requirements described in section 675(5)(B).” 42 U.S.C. § 671(a)(16); see also 42 U.S.C. § 675(5)(C) (providing that the case review system require that “procedural safeguards will be applied . . . to assure each child in foster care under the supervision of the State of a permanency hearing to be held . . . no later than 12 months after the date the child is considered to have entered foster care [and not less frequently than every 12 months thereafter during the continuation of foster care”). Non-compliance with this federal requirement jeopardizes the State’s eligibility for federal funding for foster care maintenance payments and adoption assistance.

⁹³ This language will bring the Alabama Code into compliance with federal law requiring that the State provide “for a case review system which meets the requirements described in section 675(5)(B).” 42 U.S.C. § 671(a)(16); see also 42 U.S.C. § 675(5)(C) (requiring that the case review system include permanency hearings during which the court shall consider, “in the case of a child who has attained age 16, the services needed to assist the child to make the transition from foster care to independent living”). Non-compliance with this federal requirement jeopardizes the State’s eligibility for federal funding for foster care maintenance payments and adoption assistance.

⁹⁴ This language will bring the Alabama Code into compliance with federal Title IV-E requirement that “[t]he State agency must obtain a judicial determination that it has made reasonable efforts to finalize the permanency plan that is in effect.” 45 C.F.R. §1356.21(b)(2)(i). Title IV-E funding for the Department of Human Resources exceeded $27 million in FY 2006. See Alabama Department of Human Resources, Annual Report 2006, at 13.

⁹⁵ This language will bring the Alabama Code into compliance with federal law requiring that the State provide “for a case review system which meets the requirements described in section 675(5)(B).” 42 U.S.C. § 671(a)(16); see also 42 U.S.C. § 675(5)(D) (providing that the case review system must require that “a child’s health and education record. . . is reviewed and updated, and a copy of the record is supplied to the foster parent or foster care provider with whom the child is placed, at the time of each placement of the child in foster care, and is supplied to the child at no cost at the time the child leaves foster care if the child is leaving foster care by reason of having attained the age of majority under State law”). Non-compliance with this federal requirement jeopardizes the State’s eligibility for federal funding for foster care maintenance payments and adoption assistance.

under Section 26-18-7, the state agency or private agency having custody of the abandoned child shall petition the juvenile court having jurisdiction over the child to terminate parental rights to the abandoned child.”). The Department of Human Resources will still be required to file a petition to terminate parental rights in abandonment cases, but the 14-day requirement will be deleted to allow greater discretion, subject to the federal requirement that “[t]he petition to terminate parental rights must be filed within 60 days of the judicial determination that the child is an abandoned infant.” 45 C.F.R. § 1356.21(i)(1)(ii) (emphasis added).

⁹⁷ This new language will emphasize that dependency and termination of parental rights cases shall take priority over other cases filed on appeal, except for certain emergency matters. The priority of case provision is consistent with current law in Ala. Code § 12-15-120(a) (2007) in juvenile cases and in Ala. Code § 26-18-2 (2007) as to termination of parental rights cases. Waiver of parental consent for abortion cases are excepted because these appeals must be handled in an expeditious, confidential and anonymous manner according to Ala. Code § 26-21-4(h) (2007).

⁹⁸ This language will allow a petition for involuntary commitment to be filed in the county in which the minor or child resides, which may not be the same as the county in which the child is located. This change will reduce confusion by adopting the venue rules that already apply in dependency proceedings. See Ala. Code § 12-15-35(b) (2007) (“If dependency is alleged, proceedings shall be commenced in the district where the child resides or in the district where the child is present when the proceedings are commenced.”).

⁹⁹ When the juvenile court finds that a petition is totally without merit, current law permits the court to dismiss the petition. See Ala. Code § 12-15-90(b) (2007) (“If it appears from the face of the petition or from the testimony of the petitioner that the petition is totally without merit, the court may order the petition dismissed without further proceedings.”) (emphasis added). This change will make dismissal mandatory.

¹⁰⁰ This amended provision will require the juvenile court to provide a copy of the petition to the minor or child and his or her parent, legal guardian, or legal custodian, and, if requested, read a copy of the petition to them. These changes will ensure that the minor or child and his or her parent, legal guardian, or legal custodian are apprised of the contents of the petition, as required by due process.

¹⁰¹ This language will provide that a child’s attorney shall be automatically appointed to represent every minor or child who is subject to a petition under this article. Because a child or minor who is the subject of a petition for involuntary commitment is facing the prospect of a substantial deprivation of liberty, he or she should have the assistance of an attorney who can ensure that the court’s decision is informed by all relevant evidence, including evidence that suggests involuntary commitment would be unnecessarily restrictive. The provision will also recognize that the juvenile court has discretion to appoint a guardian ad litem in addition to a child’s attorney. Such appointment may be necessary in cases where the court does not believe the parties have presented sufficient evidence to enable the court to determine whether commitment is appropriate.

¹⁰² This language will require that the Department of Mental Health/Mental Retardation receive notice of a petition and hearing date at least 14 days prior to the hearing. Such notice is essential to allow the Department adequate time to prepare for the hearing.

¹⁰³ This subsection will clarify that a child must not be placed in a juvenile detention facility unless he or she is charged with a delinquent act. Reference to a minor or child being placed in a jail or other facility for persons accused of or convicted of committing crimes was deleted to bring this section in compliance with the federal Juvenile Justice and Delinquency Prevention Act, which prohibits the institutionalization of nonoffenders and restricts the placement of children in adult jails or lockups. See 42 U.S.C. § 5633(a)(11) & (13). Non-compliance with these federal mandates jeopardizes the state's eligibility for millions of dollars in federal funding for delinquency prevention programs.

¹⁰⁶ This language will revise the notice obligations of the Department of Mental Health/Mental Retardation by requiring that the Department not only notify the committing court of a proposed discharge, but also the parties and the court to which a case has been transferred. Such notice is particularly important when the family of a committed child or minor has moved to another county during the period of commitment.

¹⁰⁷ This new language will clarify that the jurisdiction of the committing court is not indefinite, but that it does continue as long as the child remains in the custody of the Department of Mental Health/Mental Retardation.

¹⁰⁸ This new section will allow the court to consolidate the probable cause hearing with the final hearing, upon consent of all parties, in order to avoid unnecessary expense and delay.

¹⁰⁹ This language will create a mandatory referral requirement for children in need of supervision ("CHINS") or other status offenders who are at imminent risk of being placed in the legal or physical custody of the Department of Human Resources. The court may elect to suspend other proceedings pending a review by the county children's services facilitation team, but unless otherwise provided in this Title, suspension is not required and will sometimes be inappropriate.

¹¹⁰ This language will create a mandatory referral requirement for children in need of supervision (“CHINS”) or other status offenders who are at imminent risk of being placed in the legal or physical custody of the Department of Human Resources. The court may elect to suspend other proceedings pending a review by the county children’s services facilitation team, but unless otherwise provided in this Title, suspension is not required and will sometimes be inappropriate.

¹¹¹ When a status offender is referred to the county children’s services facilitation team, this provision will require that the juvenile probation officer continue to provide case management services for the child, unless and until the team determines that another person should serve as case manager.

¹¹² This language will authorize the juvenile court to extend or accelerate the statutory 21-day time period allowed for the county team to present a plan of services.

¹¹³ This change will codify current practice.

¹¹⁴ This change will codify current practice.

¹¹⁵ This language will slightly expand the Alabama Children’s Policy Council to include two important stakeholders who are not currently represented on the Council: the Director of the Children First Foundation and the Director of the Multiple Needs Child Office.

¹¹⁶ In order to maximize community participation and local leadership, this language will authorize the county children’s policy councils to appoint more than seven members of the community.

¹¹⁷ Under this new language, the juvenile court judge who presides over the county children’s policy council will be authorized to nominate a member of the council to serve as chair in lieu of the judge, whose judicial responsibilities may not leave sufficient time to invest in the council.
